

Speaking The Public Mind

JAYCEES TO RUN NEEDED CLEAN-UP DRIVE

Editor, El Paso Times:

The Beautify El Paso Association's Weed Clean-up campaign got under way last week, when a group of young men turned out to transform the areas covered in weeds into what the organization hopes will be a change in the appearance of our City.

This is the first project in a program that seeks to help clean up specified areas of the El Paso community, and, perhaps, "create a better City in the bargain." El Paso Jaycees have agreed to take the leadership, in cooperation with Beautify El Paso Association, in such a program by establishing a "Clean-up Central" headquarters, which would serve as a clearing house on the subject of clearing vacant lots in a weed clean-up. Citizens would be invited to call in the location of areas that need attention. The J.C.'s office is at Plaza Hotel. By reporting trouble spots to this office, a group of young men will call upon you, giving you a price for the necessary work. Prices for vacant lots run from $10-$20 according to the condition and size of lot. Unusual cases may run higher. However, you deal with the young men who call upon you, arriving at a definite agreement. Mark Barfoot is chairman of this weed project.

Our group has become increasingly intrigued with this program, which we hope will create interest throughout the City, influencing community pride and a better understanding of our city's beautification needs.

The association hopes to complete several such projects each month, scheduling the actual day of clean-up the first Saturday of each month, whenever possible.

El Paso citizens are invited to call "Clean-up Central" headquarters, to suggest sites or areas they feel are in need of attention, or where they want these services.

Free educational material on the proper handling of trash in the home and preparing it for city collection to avoid spilling, scattering, and otherwise adding to the litter problem in El Paso is available through Beautify El Paso Association headquarters.

—Andy Cohen,
President Beautify
El Paso Association.

WRITER DEFENDS PROPOSAL TO CHARGE

Editor, El Paso Times:

John J. Hammer's bizarre complaint about the proposal to charge a nominal admission to our Washington Park Zoo (SPM, Aug. 14), is vulnerable to easy rebuttal.

Hammer brands as "irresponsible" the action of the City Parks and Recreation Board in endorsing the proposal of the El Paso Zoological Society to charge 10 cents admission for children up to age 14 years and 25 cents for adults. While deploring the burden thus placed on low-income families, Hammer neglects to mention the proposal provides for one day per week of free admission to the zoo.

Surely no reasonable resident can object to the long-overdue idea common in other cities where, if admission is free at the main gate of a zoo, charges are levied when entering various areas therein.

The Washington Park Zoo is a municipal, tax-supported institution, but it has always occupied a position of very low priority in deference to innumerable programs of pressing public need which Hammer cites as being more worthy.

The enlightened proposal accords congratulations to our City Parks and Recreation Board and El Paso Zoological Society for: (1) the attempt to accomplish gradually a dire need to upgrade a facility enjoyed particularly by our children; (2) letting those who CHOOSE to visit the zoo share in such upgrading rather than putting the burden on the tax-paying bloc disinterested or disdainful of the project; (3) getting a start, however late, on a sound plan which is an integral part of the essential process of improving El Paso's general image.

Our relatively isolated city lacks world-renowned and heavily-supported natural attractions such as San Diego's Zoo and Marineland. (Any parent who has treated a delighted child to a visit to the Children's Zoo in San Diego, has

The Shepherd

TROUBLED THOUGHTS

"Let not thy thoughts trouble thee."

Daniel 5:10

The Chinese claim that birds of Care — And Worry that fly everywhere — About our heads are always there — But if they build nests in our hair — That is one thing we can prevent — For this true fact is evident — As we think in our hearts we are — And thinking wrong will take one far — Astray into depths of despair — So, of this pair of birds beware.

—JULIEN C. HYER

20 And 40 Years Ago In El Paso

TWENTY YEARS AGO

August 18, 1950

(Friday)

Miami. (INS)—Florida was alerted Thursday for 140-mile-an-hour winds which are battering their way toward the state's fabulous "Gold Coast" and may strike on the Bahama Islands by Friday afternoon.

Brentwood Heights and San Juan Addition residents Thursday touched off moves by the City Council to oust dairies from the Chelsea Drive Area and to extend city bus service to the two newly-formed areas. Affected dairy operators, including Hawkins Dairy, are scheduled to appear before the council at 10 a.m. Thursday to show cause why the dairies should not be removed from the corporate limits in compliance with municipal regulations.

AUSTIN (AP)—Tiger, a 2-year-old alley cat, has adopted a baby field mouse to replace a kitten born dead. The spectacle of a cat mothering a mouse is attracting sightseers to the H. W. Wilson home near Municipal Airport.

FORTY YEARS AGO

August 18, 1930

(Monday)

A lion hunt into the San Andreas Mountains last week, headed by Al Fields of Animas, ended in success when Jim Cox shot a lioness that had been chased into a tree by bloodhounds. The actual chase started at the spot where the animal had killed a deer.

Eddie Schneider, 18-year-old aviator seeking to establish a junior trans-continental flight record, was forced down by bad weather near Santa Rosa, N.M. last night. Schneider said he planned to take off for Albuquerque tomorrow, refuel and immediately proceed to Los Angeles.

given that child an innocent, memorable, real and natural experience which has made mere pictures in a children's book come alive).

Meanwhile, disgruntled taxpayer Hammer may take advantage of a weekday when zoo admission is free.

—Valerie Sanford,
9333 Turrentine..

by Brickman

Grab Bag

By FRANK WATSON

THE ANSWER QUICK!

- 1—Who wrote "The Devil's Disciple"?
- 2—What is the Dewey decimal system?
- 3—Was Eamon de Valera ever prime minister of the Irish Free State?
- 4—Who was George Rogers Clark?
- 5—Who was G. K. Chesterton?

WATCH YOUR LANGUAGE

FORENSIC — (fe-RENS-ick) — adjective: pertaining to, connected with or used in courts of law or public discussion and debate.

IT HAPPENED TODAY

On this day in 1913 the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States was formed.

IT'S BEEN SAID

It is fortune, not wisdom that rules man's life.—Cicero

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

- 1—George Bernard Shaw.
- 2—A system of book classification for library cataloguing.
- 3—Yes.
- 4—American Revolutionary frontier leader.
- 5—English journalist, essayist, novelist and poet.

the small society