The Babe Ruth Tourney folks deserve a pat on the back for weathering the disheartening rainy conditions of two days and still maintaining a fluid operation of the tourney But they could take some lessons from the Elmira K of C track officials in the operation of a publicity department Jim Barbieri, who leads off for the Los Angeles Dodgers was captain of the Schenectady Babe Ruth champs of eight years ago . . . One of the brightest stars of the current Elmira tourney is LaSalle first baseman Don Culbert.

Saturday is going to be a big day for area sports fans. Up Ithaca way there's the Giants-Steelers pro football exhibition and down Galeton way there's the annual lumberman's show—which is even more a show of strength and stamina than football. . . There'll be local interest in both areas, too.

Gary Wood is expected to see plenty of action at quarterback for the Giants . . . Pete Gogolak will be booting field goals and placements (if the Giants get close) on the turf that made him famous . . . And Ted Holman, the thin man lefty quarterback from Syracuse, will be in the Giants defensive secondary . . . Mike Giardina's arm-wrestling team is going to stage an exhibition at the lumberman's show . . . and if you want to stay home, the Pioneers play two at Dunn Field.

Jack (they call him "The Jailer") Flynn will be playing in his 14th Elmira District Golf Tournament starting Saturday at the Elmira Country Club. Jack is the lone area golfer who can boast that he's played in every District tourney . . . He's a two-time champ, incidentally . . . As is defending champ Ed Shaw. Hugh Mecum is the lone three-time winner.

Gary Girmindl, the Pioneer General Manager, has a brother, Julie, who is a scholastic basketball coach at Shaker High, N.Y. Two years ago his team went through the season unbeaten . . . Gary, incidentally, is seriously thinking of entering the Elmira District Golf Tournament—and if he does he would be among the favorites . . . Al DiSantis, the sports ed at Schenectady, runs the semi-pro Wedekind basketball team of Schenectady. The club is coached by Barry Kramer and just recently signed Gary Liberatore, one of small college's big scorers for New Haven College last season . . . DiSantis is looking for teams from the Elmira area for games during the winter . . . He emphasizes that the team must be college talent-loaded. -

Tom Guidis, the possible next athletic director at Edison High, is spending his summer at the United States Air Reserve School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. . . . And in case his Heights pals didn't know, it's Lt. Col. Tom Guidis . . . Harold Schwalb, the SHS basketball coach who's currently touring Europe, had a strategy talk with Lou Carnesseca, the St. John's basketball coach in Rome, Italy — which proves that Schalbie will talk shop every chance he gets . . . Andy Cohen pens to express his regrets and shock over the sudden death of pal Barney Lutz. Andy, who spends his summers in El Paso, Tex., as a coach for the Texas League Sun Kings, says Barney played right field on the first team he (Andy) ever managed, the Pine Bluff, Ark., club of the Cotton States League. "And," writes Andy, "If I ever picked my all-time team of hustlers and dedicated players of teams I managed, Barney would be the captain."
