

'Herbie Hustle' At UTEP

Non-pitcher "Herbie Hustle" is 1-1 on the year and his coach couldn't be happier.

"He's a winner," Miner baseball coach Andy Cohen says of his new leftfielder (a.k.a. Herb Von Hagen). "His attitude alone is worth a run per ball game and when we need it the most he always seems to come up with the big play."

Not bad praise for a senior centerfielder who lost his job at the start of the year. Since the outset, however, Von Hagen has rebounded from a severe hamstring pull to take over leftfield, next door to Joe Pennies, a local boy whose staked squatters rights to the centerfield berth.

"HAVING BOTH those boys out there is a tremendous asset to our club," Cohen pointed out yesterday after the Miners pulled out a narrow 6-5 win over Western Athletic Conference northern division member Colorado State to complete a three game series sweep..N

As has been the case in seven of UTEP's 11 triumphs (the Orange have dropped seven) "Ageless Andrew" had to shuffle pitchers like W.C. Fields finessed cards in a poker game. When starter Mike Kruta faltered in the sixth Tony Medellin came on to squelch one rally and Dave Jannusch followed an inning later to pick up a save although his eighth inning gopher ball to Dave Marino surrendered CSU's fifth and final tally.

"WE'VE HAD to come from behind in several ball games in recent weeks," Coehn versed. "The boys are now learning how to win close games, something we couldn't do a year ago."

Three two-run innings produced UTEP's offense with a deadly suicide squeeze by David Nance highlighting the winning rally.
