

Cohen Club Gets Rest Before ASU

Andy Cohen's University of Texas at El Paso baseball team gets time off this week and according to their coach, "We're gonna need it."

The Miners, who dropped all three games in their series with Western Athletic Conference foe the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque over the weekend, are off until Friday when they play at Arizona State.

"We have three games over there in two days," Cohen commented yesterday. "I think our pitching staff right now can use some rest. We're a little down but these kids have a way of bouncing back."

Last Saturday the Orange dropped a twinbill to UNM, 3-2 and 9-4. Righty Jeff Hogan hurled a strong opening game but two Miner errors proved costly and the club left important runs on the bases.

IN THE NIGHTCAP UNM battered starter Dan Modlinski from the box during a five-run fourth inning and went on to an easy win. Modlinski is now 3-4 on the year while first game loser Hogan is 3-3.

The three-game sweep in the Duke City dropped Cohen's club to 22-18 overall and 2-7 in WAC play. With 11 games remaining, all conference except a twinbill with New Mexico State, the Miners are four wins away from the most triumphs ever chalked up by a Cohen club in 13 years at UTEP.
