

Okay for Miners

Andy Cohen, coach of the University of Texas at El Paso baseball team, may not have quite as many problems as he figured he'd have after the Miners broke even in three games with the New Mexico Lobos over last weekend.

The Miners and Lobos played a 9-9 tie in the first game in which UTEP took a big lead. The Miners won the first game of a twinbill Saturday 8-3 and the Lobo took the night cap 7-2.

"Our pitching was not bad," Cohen said. He lauded Lynn Hunt for going the seven-inning route in the Miners' win Saturday. "He pitched a beautiful game." Cohen was impressed with Don Wilson who pitched in the losing game.

FIRST BASE, which appeared a problem, may have been solved with the appearance of John Miller at that position in the three games with New Mexico. He handled the job so well that Cohen expects him to stay there.

That will allow Larry McFarlin to go to the outfield. Cohen next hopes to move Charlie West from the catcher's post to the outfield.

Top Miner hitters after the first two games are Grady Cavness and McFarlin.

THE MINERS will meet University of Albuquerque in a pair of twinbills at Dudley Field Friday and Saturday.

Hunt and Wilson, two of the pitchers working last week, will be available again. Jesse Lujan, former Jefferson star, Ralph Ornelas and Ernie Barraeta also will be ready for duty. Barraeta has been bothered by a sore arm.
