field goal.

Milner is 20 and is taking business administration at U.T. El Paso. He was recruited for the Miner baseball team by head coach Andy Cohen after he had a 9-2 record pitching for Odessa Junior College last season.

HE SAID he "sweated out" the Texas Tech-Texas Christian game which the Red Raiders won 31-14. Tech was behind in part of the game.

The U.T. El Paso student game which the Red Raiders went right down the line picking favorites and non-favorites without a hitch.

Two games that proved stumbling blocks for most of the contestants didn't bother him at all. They were the Auburn-Tennessee game and the Oklahoma State-Colorado game. Auburn beat Tennessee 28-14 and Oklahoma State won from Colorado 34-17.

"AUBURN HAS been playing crazy football and I figured they were capable of beating Tennessee," he said. "As for Oklahoma State's victory over Colorado, I received information from friends that Colorado doesn't seem to be able to beat teams from Oklahoma."

Many others came close in the eighth week of the season. But they weren't as successful as Milner. There were no ties. North Texas saw to that with that last second field goal kicked by Bernie Barbour with time expiring as the ball went into the air.

THE GAME was tied 31-31 just before Barbour pumped the ball through the uprights. He's a left footed kicker. That provided the coincidence of a left footed kicker helping a left handed pitcher win $250.

The ninth week of the Contest will be held this week. Look for entries on Page 1 of The Herald-Post contest Wednesday and you, too, like Milner, may win $250 or split a purse of $500 if two or more tie with correct answers.
