

Seven-run ninth wins for ASU

YSLETA, Tex. — Word around the Western Athletic Conference:

Watch out for Arizona State's big inning.

The Sun Devils, who burst loose for eight runs in the seventh inning last Saturday night to nip Arizona, 13-12, did it again yesterday.

The A-Staters exploded for seven runs in the ninth to dump Texas-El Paso's Miners, 7-2, and temporarily get first place in the WAC's Southern Division (dependent on the Arizona-New Mexico game last night).

"I wish we wouldn't wait so long," said ASU coach Bobby Winkles. "Big innings are great, but I just don't know how long we can keep this up. I'll give the kids credit, though, they just don't give up."

ASU now is 8-5 in league play with a doubleheader here today against the Miners (noon, Arizona time. KOOL will broadcast).

The game, originally scheduled for El Paso but changed due to a previous commitment for the field, was played in Ysleta's Chesser Field and, until the ninth, had been decided on the famed Texas winds.

UTEP's Bob Prokopowicz had provided the game's only run with an opposite field wind-aided homer in the fourth and with Miner hurler Mark Bombard entering the fatal ninth with a four-hit shut-out, the Devils looked done in.

But ASU loaded the bases on two walks and a UTEP error and gutty second baseman Bill Berger slammed a two - strike, two - run single to left and the Devils were on their way.

Prokopowicz' round tripper, of which Winkles commented "Andy (Cohen, UTEP coach) must have turned the wing machine on," when the routine fly ball which got in a wind gust, carried over the left field fence.

The Devils slammed three triples in the ninth after Berger's clutch single — and two were wind aided.

Mike Hansen started for A-State and, as is becoming his custom, pitched brilliantly. The Walla Walla, Wash. native allowed only six hits — one from the fifth on — and upped his season record to an unblemished 6-0.

Roger Schmuck was the only Devil to get two hits — a single and a ninth - inning triple — while Propkowicz, hitting .451 for the season, got three of the eight Miner hits.

Winkles was undecided last night about who would pitch today for ASU, but indicated Craig Swan and Jim Crawford were likely choices. Jim Gregger-son and Harry Mihner will pitch for UTEP.
