

And Remember What Happened That Year?--

Kings' Win Streak Longest Since '62

By RAY SANCHEZ

El Paso's gritty Sun Kings go after their seventh victory in a row tonight at Dudley Field, boasting their longest winning streak since 1962.

Manager Chuck Tanner will start Ramon Hernandez against the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs. Game time is 7:27 p.m.

were five in a row. In 1962, they won nine straight—and went on to win the Texas League championship.

"We're shooting for 11 in a row right now," John Phelan, the Kings' general manager, smiled after the Sun Kings had walloped the Spurs 7-2 last night. "We're going to win all the games on this home stand."

general feeling of confidence on the team.

And good reason they have for feeling confident. They've looked like champs in their present home stand, winning three straight from Albuquerque and three in a row from Dallas-Fort Worth. They've shown an ability to win the close ones, to win from the front and to win by coming from behind.

LAST NIGHT, they spotted the Spurs two runs in the first inning then unleashed a 13-hit barrage that left the visitors groggy.

Winston Llenas and Charlie Dees got back-to-back doubles for a run in the first. Two singles, two sacrifices and a walk produced two runs in the second.

Llenas smashed a two-run homer in the seventh and Mickey Dobbins, who was batting .233 just a week ago but is now .262, doubled in two runs in the eighth.

Dobbins drove in three runs during the night — the third night in a row he has had three RBIs.

The visitors got both their runs in the first inning with Carl Warwick singling them both in.

CHRIS MANEUF toiled the route for the Sun Kings, walking only two, whiffing five and pitching hitless ball the last six innings. In one stretch, Maneff set down 13 men in a row.

Saturday, the Sun Kings beat the Spurs 6-3 with George Sherrod picking up the win. He got a helping hand from Gary Fischer, who came on in the eighth to set down a very mild uprising. Dobbins, Jim Spencer and Llenas banged homers, Dobbins with two on.

Saturday was "Furrs Night" and 2391 fans saw the King victory.

Poor weather, with rain pouring all around but kindly taking it easy on Dudley Field, kept last night's crowd down to 736.

FRED WYATT won the Father's Day prize of coaching for the Sun Kings Thursday. He said he will probably choose to coach at first, replacing an old friend, Andy Cohen.

Mrs. R. E. Gerald of 4836 Los Reales drive won the prize of dining with Tanner tomorrow night. Her husband was invited along.
