

Rain Stops Regular Contest; Visitors Cop Suspended Game

The New Orleans Pelicans completed a 4-2 victory of a suspended game over the Montgomery Rebels last night, then rain washed out the scheduled regular game in the bottom of the first inning.

The washout thus stacked up another doubleheader on Manager Steve Souchock's already overworked mound staff. The Pels and Rebs will meet in three straight twin bills starting tonight. The first tilt tonight will start at 7 p.m. at Paterson Field instead of the usual 6:30 starting time.

Manager Andy Cohen of the Pelicans said last night that Chuck Churn (5-6) and Hy Cohen (6-6) will be the probable starters tonight for the invaders. Manager Steve Souchock is expected to use Jim Russell, new Reb hurler, in the first game tonight for the Rebs and Chuck Fowler in the second.

The suspended game was completed before the heavens opened up for the second time of the night to cancel the finale. The two clubs played six innings on Sunday, July 22, before the Sunday curfew stopped them. New Orleans held a 3-2 lead when the game was called, then Gail Henley's long homer over the 380-foot sign in dead center on right-hander Bill Voiselle's second pitch last night gave the Pels an insurance run.

The red-hot Pelicans, making a strong bid in a belated drive for the Southern Assn. pennant, 2:05.

grabbed a 1-0 lead in the top of the first in the nightcap on John Powers' drifting homer over the right field wall but the rain started again and forced cancellation of the contest before Montgomery came to bat.

Cohen said in the dressing room last night he will hold right-hander Curt Raydon, who was warmed up last night, until tomorrow night's twin bill.
