

Boots and Bingles

Andy Cohen managed a team in Panama last winter on which Humberto Robinson played. Humberto is a going great guns in the International, having won 10 games. — And Charley White is playing some fine ball in the Pacific Coast League, Jay Brown reports. Brown spent 3½ years in Panama. "They have a lottery on week ends, four bits may win as high as a thousand," the former Newtonian tells of one lucky streak he had. — And the Braves' "gate prize" idea is proving very popular. There was a 300 buck total in the kitty after the second Indianapolis game. — Fishermen's Lodge, Lake Norfolk, Ark., reports that a group of Wichita insurance men had fine luck catching rainbows there last weekend. In the party which was headed by Fort A. Zackary were H. A. Humphrey, Wm. J. Higgins, Gary Seaton, E. L. Starkflith, Bill Morgan, Jack Lipe and Larry Krehbiel. The Wichitans took a "float" trip on the White River.
