

Veteran Players Report To Indianapolis Camp

Manager Andy Cohen welcomed several veteran outfielders and infielders to the Indianapolis Dowdy field training camp this morning.

The new arrivals will supplement 20 young pitchers and catchers who have been working out since Tuesday.

Cohen will not receive the bulk of his starting team from the big White Sox camp at Tampa until the second week in April.

Indianapolis is the top farm in the White Sox organization.

The Indians will continue one-a-day drills this week to prep for their first exhibition game March 25 against Buffalo at Dowdy field.

"We will continue drills from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. as long as the boys keep hustling and stay busy," Cohen said. "If they lag, we'll start throwing two drills a day at them."

Cohen Impressed

Although most of the players who practiced last week will eventually land with lower White Sox farm clubs, Cohen was impressed with four youngsters.

Pitchers Wayne Sperry, Tom Richards, and Hal Trosky jr. showed well. The pitchers started to throw hard Friday after a three-day warm up.

Cohen was particularly pleased with Sperry, a big, hard-throwing moundsman, and catcher Camile Carreon.

Carreon played in the Nebraska Rookie league last season.

Although the weather played a dirty trick with Friday, Cohen has nothing but praise for Hollywood's climate and Dowdy facilities.

Continue Drills

Indianapolis continued pitching, conditioning, batting, and fielding drills last week.

The camp consists mostly of catchers and pitchers and the hitting isn't stressed too greatly.

Two veteran pitchers, Jim Atkins and Al Papai, ran through the drills with the youngsters.

INDIAN INFORMATION —

Cohen has devised a two-minute conditioner guaranteed to get all his pitchers in best of shape.

Cohen has each player run an individual circle around him fielding bunts off his bat. The player must retrieve the bunted ball before it stops rolling.

Tammahay, Indispensible Meet Neshoba

Big Paying Hollywood Dogs Clash In Feature Tonight

Two fleet greyhounds, which returned a huge $222.60 quiniela last time out, Thursday, will clash again tonight in the Grade A Ninth race at Hollywood Kennel club.

Tammahay and Indispensible will meet a fine quality field which includes Neshoba, Rockie Sal, and Rural Pak. Fifth Race—3-8 Mile

Although Tammahay has been in 13 quinielas in 22 starts, the fast-breaking star formed half of Thursday's big one.

If he breaks on top tonight he will be hard to catch. Indispensable is proving a strong stretch-runner and will be right near the front at the wire if he stays with the field early.

This is the type of field Neshoba likes to dominate. The former champion will have neither Splendored nor Easy Guest to compete against.
