

Andy Cohen Will Manage Denver Bears for 1958

Denver—(AP)—A familiar figure to Denver baseball, Andy Cohen, will replace Ralph Houk next season as manager of the Denver Bears in the American association.

Cohen's selection was announced Tuesday night by Bob Howsam, Denver president and general manager, shortly after Houk was named by the New York Yankees as a coach. Houk replaces the retiring Bill Dickey.

Last season Cohen managed Indianapolis in the Triple A association and his contract was not renewed.

The cigar-chomping Cohen led Denver's Western league entry in that Class A league to pennants in 1952 and 1954. The Bears wound up as runnersup in 1951 and 1953—the other years Cohen was here.

Houk has managed the Bears the past three years. Last season Denver finished second to Wichita but won the Junior World Series playoffs.

He is a former Yankee catcher, like Dickey who never rejoined New York after suffering nervous exhaustion in spring training last year. Dickey, a Hall of Famer, is recuperating at his home at Little Rock, Ark.
