

Andy Cohen Due Here Tomorrow

Andy Cohen, the new manager of the Indianapolis Indians, is coming to town tomorrow for a noon press conference.

Cohen recently returned to the States from the Canal Zone where he managed the Chesterfield club in a winter league. It will be Cohen's first visit to Indianapolis since his playing days in the 30s with Minneapolis.

Cohen, who managed New Orleans the last two years, was appointed to the Indianapolis job with consent of the Chicago White Sox after Kerby Farrell moved up to the Cleveland club. The community-owned Indians have a working agreement with the White Sox for the 1956 season.

The Indianapolis management also announced today that Joe Tipton, a catcher on the club's "restricted" list, has been sold to Birmingham. Tipton quit the Memphis club in midseason last year after a dispute with Manager Jack Cassini and sat out the rest of the season at his home.
