

time between Philadelphia and the Chicago Cubs before going to the PCC. He has been at Nashville the last two years and batted .316 in 1956.

Little or no help is expected from the White Sox in the way of outfielders. Although eight are listed on the roster, one—Jim Landis—is a NDS man and will not count against the player limit. Neither are the Sox expected to lend additional catching strength, particularly so if an impending deal goes through.

But Chicago, with 18 pitchers on the roster, could and probably will add talent to the Indianapolis pitching platoon. Ironically, that is the department causing the least worries to Manager Andy Cohen. He's overloaded with fine young prospects, some of whom might make the grade in a big jump from Class B and C to Indianapolis.

In addition, Manager Cohen has such veterans as Al Papai, Tony Ponce, Arnie Atkins, Charley Bicknell and George Spencer. The only thing really lacking is southpaw pitching. Another lefty in camp is Rodolfo Arias, a Cuban who won 8 and lost 5 in Class A at Colorado Springs last year.

exhibition games.

Manager Cohen is hoping, not relying, that Don Prohovich can come through as the club's shortstop. Experience is against Don, whose only pro background is 70 games with Colorado Springs last year. As of now, there is no other shortstop candidate in sight.
