

YOUNG INDIANS RIDING HIGH

HOLLYWOOD, FLA.—Little Andy Cohen has been pulling quite a few plums from the White Sox pie and his Indianapolis Indians have been winning games thought impossible a week ago.

The most surprising development in Chicago's farm camp here is the way the kids, most of them with only two and three years' experience, have been outplaying opponents.

After giving away the first exhibition game through five unearned runs, the papoose Indians have won five straight, the last a 12-1 rout of the Kansas City B team at West Palm Beach Saturday.

While it must be admitted that the opposition has been poorer than the Indians good, the victories achieved by the Class B and C boys against older and wiser folks portends a bright future for the White Sox organization, and Indianapolis, too.

Not many of the names in the recent lineups of the Indians will be in Indianapolis April 16, but they are names to remember. Perhaps next year, maybe the year after, they will be carrying the colors of Indianapolis in the American Association pennant race.

ONE OF THE best-looking hitters in camp, from the standpoint of appearance, style and the cuts he takes, is Joe Martin, a raw recruit who played in the rookie Nebraska State League last year. Martin is a lanky 20-year-old from Virginia who handles himself well at first base and who never seems satisfied, no matter how well he plays or hits.

The White Sox organization thought well enough of Martin to give him an Indianapolis contract which will be in effect no matter in what classification he plays this season. He reminds one of Johnny McCarthy, who in 1942 became the first Indianapolis player to lead the A.A. in runs batted in.

The White Sox are perhaps better stocked with pitching prospects than anything else. A few of the youngsters like Barry Latman, Glen Rosenbaum, the Hoosier boy, and Dick Atkinson may be taken North for a longer look. Some of the others, like Wayne Sperry, Phil Brown, Dick Ramos and Hal Trosky likely will be sent out for further experience.

Sperry, a 6.7 beanpole from California, has shown more stuff this spring than his 6-9 record at Duluth-Superior last year would indicate. His main fault has been control. When he has that, he's a rough hombre on the mound.

With what he has now, and with what he will still get from the White Sox, Manager Cohen figures to have one of the better pitching staffs in the league.

FROM WHAT we've seen thus far, there's going to be a shortage of speed on the 1957 Indians, and there's no indication of acceleration in the forthcoming help from the White Sox.

It's possible, of course, that the speedy Indians of '56 make everyone else look slow. Nevertheless, in running-the-bases exercises yesterday, the fastest man appeared to be Vince Garcia, and he's not particularly gifted for swiftness. Certainly, there was none to compare with Roger Maris, Larry Raines and Bill Harrell.

Ted Beard is not mentioned because the Teddy Bear, being permitted to condition himself in his own way, did not run yesterday. Beard still is the fastest on the team, even though he has slowed in recent years. Beard may not outrun some others on a straightaway, but Teddy knows how to run bases, which gives him a big advantage.

HOME RUNS galore have been bouncing off the walls of the Chisox office here. Joe Hausser is in town. There's nothing Joe loves better than to talk about home runs and he's an authority on that subject.

As a member of the Minneapolis Millers, Joe hit 60 one year for an American Association record that still stands. Hauser is manager of the White Sox's Duluth-Superior team.

Another weekend arrival was Ira Hutchinson, who is managing the Colorado Springs club. Hutch became a member of the 1945 Indianapolis pitching staff when Ed Wright was sold to the Boston Braves. A reliever with the Braves, Hutchinson came to Indianapolis and was told that he was a starter. He never was able to take up the slack caused by Wright's sale.

TRIBE NEEDS 5,000 BALLOTS

Ballots and proxy cards for election of the 1957 board of directors of Indians Inc., are slow in arriving. Indians' officials announced today that only 6,000 have been received from stockholders, with 11,000 needed to make Thursday's meeting and election legal.

Stockholders are urged to mail or deliver ballots or proxy cards to Indians, Inc., Victory Field, by Wednesday.
