

Tribe Trademark

Jovial Johnny Hutchings, coach of the Indianapolis Indians, models the 1957 Tribe uniform with the new arm patch. The 6,672 refers to the number of stockholders in Indians, Inc., owners of the community Indians, who are set to open the American Association season at 7:45 o'clock tonight against the Minneapolis Millers. Pregame ceremonies are booked for 7:15 and a downtown parade was held at noon.—The News Photo, Dean Timmerman.

Baseball Parade Makes Run in Rain

A noisy but somewhat damp salute was accorded the Indianapolis Indians today in a downtown parade heralding the opening of the 1957 American Association baseball season.

More than 75 units, including several bands, appeared in the parade under cloudy and drippy skies.

Members of the Indianapolis and Minneapolis teams, who are scheduled to meet at 7:45 tonight at Victory Field, rode in convertibles and station wagons.

With a break in the weather, officials of the Indianapolis club expected upward of 5,000 for tonight's opener. But the Weather Bureau was not encouraging with a forecast of "spotty" showers late this afternoon and tonight.

Herman Hoglebogle Says:

In some parts of town the Street Department has been repairing chuckholes rapidly. But there are thousands more

Andy Cohen, new manager of the Indians, nominated Barry Latman, a 20-year-old fast-balling righthander, to start against the Millers, who will counter with Stu Miller, a veteran and master of "slow stuff." Only one familiar face will be in the Tribe's starting lineup, that of Ted Beard in center field. He and George Spencer are the only holdovers from last year's triple champions.

The parade was under the direction of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which also will be in charge of tonight's pregame ceremonies at 7:15. The latter festivities will include the customary flag-raising by the Naval Reserve Color Guard, music by a Dixieland band, and the appearance of the honorary battery consisting of Mayor Phillip Bayt pitching and Governor Harold Handley catching.

Among the parade features were the 40-piece Newsboys Band, the Shrine horse patrol, 40 entrants in the Miss Universe contest, Marine Color Guard, Navy Color Guard and drill team, floats, fire trucks and high school bands.