

TWIN BILL TOMORROW

The Indianapolis Indians will open a series with Omaha tonight, and tomorrow the same two clubs will engage in a double-header, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Manager Andy Cohen has nominated Arnie Atkins for mound duty tonight and indicated that a couple of youngsters — Roger Howard and Ed Szyczewski— would draw the pitching assignments tomorrow. Denver will move in for a series Monday night, the first "ladies night" of the season.

Attendance at last night's game was 1,984, boosting the three-day total to 6,858. For the first three games last year, the attendance was only 3,323.
