

AA Stars Are Favored

By The Associated Press

Twenty of the American Assn.'s greatest individual players are favored to defeat Denver tonight in the 16th renewal of the class AAA league's all-star game. And the reasons for the odds are obvious:

The all-stars, who lead in the series nine games to six, will be playing a second place club with three of its regulars nursing injuries.

Manager Ben Garaghty of Wichita's defending champions will pilot the stars. The game, second of the series in Denver, will start at 9:30 p. m. EST before a crowd expected to reach around 16,000.

Denver was host to the game two years ago. A record of 19,769 fans saw the Bears, then in their second year of league membership, defeat the stars 10-8.

Unbeaten Jerry Davie, the Charleston right-hander who has 11 straight victories this season is expected to open for the stars. Another right-hander, Ben Flowers, probably will be Manager Andy Cohen's choice. Flowers is 4-8.

Regulars Fritz Birckell and Jim Pisoni were on the bench Sunday night, and big Zeke Bella was used only in a pinch-hit role as Denver absorbed a 9-8 loss at Omaha and fell into second place.

Charleston turned back Wichita 4-3 to seize the league lead, a half-game in front of the Bears. Indianapolis abandoned the cellar to Louisville, trimming the Colonels 6-5 in 12 innings and 10-4, and St. Paul beat Minneapolis 3-1.
