

Devils boost record to 7-1 in first game

By BOB JACOBSEN

TEMPE — Arizona State got an eight-hit, 10-strikeout route-going performance from Don Hanna, a two-run home run from Gary Allenson and 14 other assorted safeties to down Texas-El Paso here Saturday afternoon, 11-2, before a Bicentennial crowd of 1,776 fans in Packard Stadium.

The victory was the Sun Devils' 46th against eight losses, and upped their Western Athletic Conference mark to 7-1. UTEP dropped to 7-17 and 1-7, respectively. The clubs met later Saturday night in the second game of the split doubleheader.

Hanna notched his 12th win without a defeat, and walked just two. It followed a strong performance last week against New Mexico, another complete game, and gave him five in 12 starts. He also lowered his earned run average to 3.22, and the 10 whiffs were his best in quite a while.

"I felt stronger today than last Saturday," said Hanna. "I had more command, and my slider is coming back. They had a lot of handle shots for their hits. They got their runs (both in the second) simply because I wasn't hitting my spots."

Allenson, who banged out his sixth homer with a man aboard in the fifth, agreed.

"His last two outings have been his most consistent," said the Devil catcher. "He had all his pitches under control and around the plate, especially his fast ball and slider. His ball was sinking so much I took a beating trying to stop it."

Known only to the on-the-field participants, the clubs were playing with a 10-run rule after seven innings.

"But we could never get ahead by 10," said coach Jim Brock, whose club walloped the Miners, 21-0, Friday night. "The umpire (Lee Cook) brought it up, and Andy (UTEP coach Andy Cohen) said:

'I'd love to have one.'

"I ran for Allenson in the seventh (with Gary Rajsich) hoping we could get him home. Of course we didn't want to steal in that situation."

The Devils, hitting .332 coming into this series, are now 34-for-75 (.453) in the two games. They have hit five homers (by an equal number of players), and have collected 16 extra base blows.

DAY GAME
TEXAS-EL PASO (2)						ARIZONA STATE (11)
AB	R	H	E	B	I	AB	R	H	E	B	I
Bravo 2b	4	0	0	0	0	Pate lf	4	0	1	0
Owens lf	4	0	0	0	0	Peters 2b	4	2	2	2
Dillingham rf	4	0	0	0	0	Landrau cf	4	1	2	2
Billarsal 2b	4	0	0	0	0	Westlake dh	4	3	2	1	0
Dev lf	4	0	2	0	0	Phelps 1b	4	0	2	2
Dohn ph	3	1	1	0	0	Colbern rf	4	0	2	2
Patt ss	4	1	1	1	1	Allenson c	2	2	2	3
Alsup cf	4	0	1	0	0	Rajsich pr	0	0	0	0
Goodro c	4	0	1	1	1	Humphry 2b	4	1	1	0
						Horne ss	2	0	2	1
						Henderson ss	2	1	0	0
Totals	35	2	8	2	2	Totals	33	11	15	11
Texas-El Paso	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Arizona State	2	2	2	0	2	2	0	2	2	0	2	0
E — Walker, Dunning, Humphry, GP — UTEP 2, ASU 1, LOB — UTEP 8, ASU 4, 2B — Westlake, Phelps, 3B — Patt, Colbern, Peters, HR — Allenson (6), SF — Allenson, Landrau, IP — H R ER BB SO Walker (L, 2-3) 4 1/2 12 9 3 1												