

Miners To Host Aggies At Dudley

With the major league baseball playoffs in full sway, the University of Texas at El Paso will follow suit as the Miners' baseball team plays one of two fall games at 2 p.m. Friday at Dudley Field against New Mexico State.

Miner coach Larry McFarlin, former UTEP star in the mid-1930s who replaced longtime mentor Andy Cohen this fall, instituted a fall program this year and the Miners have completed four weeks of workouts. UTEP will play NMSU next Friday at Las Cruces to wind up the autumn schedule.

"Basically, we just want to look at as many ball-players as we can," McFarlin says. "We'll probably use anywhere from six to eight pitchers. I want to see how the freshmen look, too."

UTEP has had 30 players working out, and McFarlin says more players will become eligible for the spring semester.

Top returnees include second baseman Art Bravo, shortstop Danny McMahon, catcher Richard Hillebrand (no relation to UTEP's football player by the same name), outfielders Dan Seagler, Rick Haygood and Rick Perez and pitchers Nick Fiorillo and K. 'C. Nix.

"I'm very impressed with what I've seen so far," McFarlin says. "We've had a good conditioning program and I think the players are in the best shape they've ever been in."

McFarlin, a teammate of current pro football player Charlie West on the Miners in the '60s, still holds a number of UTEP baseball records, including most home runs and most runs batted in in a season. After completing his eligibility in 1967, he played a year of minor league baseball.
