

Miners Sweep Texas Tech- Lefties Good UTEP Medicine

By MIKE PEMBERTON

The U.T. El Paso Miner baseballers may be on the way to licking their previous year's mound problems and they may do it with left-handers.

Two lefties, Lynn Hunt and Harry Milner, brought home twin wins yesterday in a double header against Texas Tech of the strong Southwest Conference, 4-2 and 5-2.

Hunt, who lost his opener this season to the University of Albuquerque, had the pleasure of coming back and going the distance in the first game against Tech at Dudley Field in weather more fit for football than baseball.

MILNER, WHO didn't get fielding support in a game against New Mexico State University this week, looked as if he was in for the same treatment early in the second game. But he kept his cool and brought his team home for the win.

Coach Andy Cohen said, "I was real pleased with pitching performance of both Hunt and Milner. They hung in there real tough despite some shoddy fielding."

Hunt was in trouble only two times in the game, in the second and fifth innings.

In the second inning he began getting behind on the batters and then had to give them the fat pitch to hit.

He made them hit though, on the ground, into a team that was battling them with cold fingers. The Miners backed him well by stopping the Raiders' chance to score with a tag out at home.

MILNER got off to a slow start in the second game with Tech getting two unearned runs in the first inning off the lefty. But after that he got stronger as he went along in the effort.

"Milner didn't get mad at anybody in that first inning when Tech got those two unearned runs on balls that never left the infield," Cohen said.

He added, "Those boys who hurt him the worst in the first inning with errors were the ones who came through with key hits and runs in the fifth inning."

Milner held the Raiders to only three hits and struck out six besides going the distance.

Mike Ward was the man who led the Miners at the plate in both games. He collected a total of three hits for both games including a double and two RBIs. Hunt also helped his own cause in the first game with a double and two RBIs.
