

Miners Beat Salukis—

2 Bad Tosses Cost Bombard No-Hit Game

By MIKE PEMBERTON

Coach Andy Cohen today was looking at one thing the U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team didn't get yesterday in its two-hit, 2-1 win over the Southern Illinois Salukis at Dudley Field.

Cohen was hoping to get a few more runs across the plate and not leave so many men stranded on base. The Miners left 10 men on the bases yesterday. But all this seemed rather insignificant in view of the cool pitching of Marc Bombard.

BOMBARD allowed only one runner to reach first until the ninth inning and that came on an error. The Salukis, who finished second in the nation last year proved the game isn't over until the last out, however, when they put the comeback scare in Bombard and the Miners.

Bombard's no-hitter and shutout were lost as the result of two bad curves. With two strikes on leadoff batter Gene Renaldi, Bombard tossed him a curve that he pounded to deep short and the first hit.

THE LEFTY then retired the next two batters and this brought up right fielder Mike Rogodzinski who with two strikes on him hit a triple to deep right field, scoring the Salukis' only run.

Bombard said, "He hit a high curve ball, and boy did he hit it."

COHEN was pleased with the young pitcher's performance too. "Marc really had good stuff today. His fast ball was jumping and he changed his pitches and speeds well."

Saluki coach Joe Lutz congratulated him, too. "Anytime you win its good baseball and its especially good if you have just pitched one like Bombard did."

"The game was won with two things," Cohen said. "The first, was Bombard's pitching, and the second, was our ability to keep their pitcher in trouble all the time with our bat."

The Miners collected 10 hits with a three for four performance from John Miller, including a double.
