

Miners Look For Brighter Days Ahead

By MIKE PEMBERTON

Some days the sun comes up wrong!

When the U.T. El Paso awoke this morning they were hoping to make it shine right again after a 19-2 trouncing by the Oklahoma Sooners at Dudley Field.

IT SEEMED the Sooners could do no wrong even if the Miners did something right. The Sooners combined some protested calls with a hitting attack that had the Miner outfielders covering more ground than they had in all the other games combined.

The Sooners opened the shelling on the Miner hurlers in the first inning and scored in all innings but two.

MARC BOMBARD, the Miner, was showed no mercy either as the Sooners tagged him for nine runs before he turned it over to Bill Disselhorst. Before the sun, which seemed to be backwards, had gotten below the Franklin Mountains, Andy Cohen had gone through five hurlers.

Although all the Sooner batters hit sooner or later the big men were Scott Harrington and Criss Rickey. Harrington and Rickey along with Doug Folger the only two starters to remain in the game for the distance.

COACH ENOS SEMORE of the Sooners began substituting freely in the sixth inning and Tony Schiner, who came in at short, greeted Miner hurler Disselhorst in the seventh with a homer.

Although the Sooners unleashed a merciless hitting attack some calls which brought Cohen out of the dugout on several occasions gave rise to several breaks.
