

into competition in the Western Athletic Conference.

The WAC will be a tough task. With UTEP in the conference are Arizona, Arizona State, New Mexico, Colorado State, Wyoming, Utah and Brigham Young.

THE EIGHT schools in the conference are divided into two divisions. The Miners were put in the Southern Division with Arizona, Arizona State and New Mexico. From this division come two schools (Arizona and Arizona State) that have been national champs and rate high this year nationally.

Cohen's Miners open WAC play tomorrow against New Mexico in Albuquerque. When he does, he hopes that his pitching staff will be ready to face the highly ranked Lobos.

The pitching staff was what Cohen has called the best part of his team. The staff is being led by transfer students Marc Bombard and Harry Milner and last year's ace Lynn Hunt.

So far this year Bombard and Milner seem to be the Miner hurlers to beat. Hunt, who has turned in some fine performances, has had trouble with his control.

WHEN COHEN took a pre-season look at his team he was worried about his hitting strength. So far its not been how many hits the Miners needed but where they needed them most.

Doing heavy work for the Miners with the bat has been

PLEASANT SURPRISE—Marc Bombard and Ron Hix were two pleasant surprises to Andy Cohen's U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team this year. Bombard, (right) transferred from San Angelo State this year and has been an asset to the pitching staff. Cohen's pre-season look at the team was leary of the hitting, but catcher Hix has proved different. (Herald-Post photo by Bill Thompson.)
