Miners Tied With A.S.U. For First

Andy Cohen's U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team is tied for No. 1 today. The team picked to finish in the cellar of the southern division of the Western Athletic Conference is tied for first with the team that the Miners will meet Friday and Saturday at Tempe.

Cohen's nine, which took two of three games from the Lobos of New Mexico over the weekend are tied for first with Arizona State. Each has a 2-1 records. ASU took two from Arizona over the weekend.

THE MINERS took a double header from the Lobos Saturday, 4-3, and 7-2. But yesterday, the Lobos came back and won 5-4 an eighth inning rally.

COHEN PRAISED the whole Miner team but showed special praise for Mac Bombard, Harry Milner, Mike Ward and Danny Blanco. "Bombard has the greatest heart of any kid I ever saw." He asked me to put him in yesterday in relief after pitching Saturday, and struck out 14 batters." Milner also had great stuff and Ward and Blanco hit the ball well."

Cohen said starter Lynn Hunt yesterday didn't have the good stuff he had in Friday's game which was rained out. "He just didn't look like he did Friday."

The Miners are 13-13 for the season.
