

Four Miner Players On Injury List

Coach Andy Cohen was hoping to have his U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team healed before a three game Dudley Field series with the University of Arizona, Friday and Saturday.

Cohen lost two of his top hitters in the 11-6, 12-0 losses to Arizona State University Saturday at Tempe. Two of Cohen's pitchers also have sore arms.

MIKE WARD and John Miller were struck on the arm by pitched balls and Larry Smith and Ron Peterson are suffering from sore arms.

Cohen said, "we hope to have Ward and Miller back for the Wildcats. It will hurt our hitting if we don't. If Smith and Peterson are not healed it will bite into our pitching staff."

Cohen described Ward and Miller's injuries as severe bruises and sprains.

"ASU ANNIHILATED us," Cohen said. "Their pitchers were big and really threw hard."

Although the Miners lost, Cohen praised the work of Juan Sandoval in the series.

Starting for the Miners against the Wildcats will either be Marc Bombard or Harry Milner.
