Cohen Looks To Righties Against Ags

Coach Andy Cohen took his U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team to Las Cruces today for a non-conference double header with the New Mexico State Aggies.

Cohen was hoping for the same type of hitting barrage he got from his Miner nine the last time the two met. Although the Miners didn't get the short hits they are accustomed too, they did hit the long ball. They put together four doubles and two homers in the meeting.

ONE PROBLEM that struck Cohen in his twin-loss to New Mexico Saturday was pitching. Cohen was looking for some use out of his righthanders today when they met the Aggies.

New Mexico came up with 4-3 and 6-4 wins to escape the Western Athletic Conference cellar with a 4-8 record. UTEP dropped to the cellar with its 3-9 record.

Despite a grand slam home run by UTEP's Ron Hix in the second game the Lobos fought back for the win. The Lobos put together a three run rally led by Lobo Jim Palmer's double to secure the win.
