

Mayor Names 200 El Pasoans to Advisory Council

More than 200 El Pasoans have been picked by Mayor Pete de Wetter to serve on his campaign-promised Council for Social Action.

The Mayor announced the members of an executive committee and 10 action committees late yesterday who are charged with developing a common agenda and priorities for social action in El Paso; and, further, to stimulate action to carry out that agenda by all concerned individuals and groups in all governmental, public and private sectors.

CHOSEN BY the Mayor to head the executive committee is The Rev. James I. Oliver, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The four vice chairmen to aid Oliver are: Insurance executive Leonard Goodman Jr., Southwest National Bank president George Janzen, grocer Jose G. Santos, and El Paso attorney Andrew R. Guevara.

Mayor de Wetter spoke to an overflow crowd in City Council chambers yesterday that included a majority of members of the committees. He said, "The keynote of this program must be action."

The ten committees will deal with community promotion, capital improvements, housing code enforcement, health, sports development, youth, senior citizens and public information.

THE MAYOR assigned several City employees and department heads to aid the committees and serve as liaison. Included as co-ordinators were: Director of Public Works George Dieter Jr., Director of Planning Jonathan Cunningham; Director of Planning Department Carlos Bombach; Mayor's executive assistant, Oliver E. Goodman; Director of Veterinary Services, Dr. L. R. Hutchinson; Superintendent of Parks and Recreation, Dale Tate; Planning Department consultant, William H. Pearson, and Dick Glancey, manager of the Mayor's Youth program.

Committee chairmen and their assignments: James F. Connor, Senior Citizens; John Phelan, Sports Development; Crawford Kerr Sr., Capital Improvements; George W. Finger, Community Promotion; Jack Ratliff, Community Relations; Douglas Conwell, Youth; Travis C. Johnson, Public Information; Dr. Rene Rosas; Health; M. Baeza, Code Enforcement; and Andrew R. Guevara, Housing.

REV. OLIVER called a meeting of his executive committee for next Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

He called on a seven-point program of action for the committees as including: (1) make immediate analysis to see what happening now and what is needed, (2) establish priorities, (3) define specific objectives, (4) submit these specifics for transfer to the Mayor, (5) submit outlines of projects, (6) sub-committees report to the executive committee, and (7) the executive committee to relate to the City Council.

Mayor de Wetter looked over the large crowd responding to his call and said, "I am particularly elated that over 200 El Pasoans answered my call to serve on the various committees which form the Council for Social Action."

COMMITTEE MEMBERS AREA:
Sports Development Committee: Bill Burton, vice chairman; Andy Cohen, vice chairman; Bert Williams, vice chairman; Joe Aaronson, A. R. (Chick) Arnold, Dick Atay, Francis C. Broadus Jr., Dr. Richard Burns, David L. Carrasco, Calvin DeWitt, John Donahue, Harry Elliott, Tom Foster, H. D. Fulliller, Bill Green, Alex A. Gutierrez, Nemo Herrera, Scotty Irwin, Stephen W. Kent, Ted Kepple, Bill Lynde, Jim Malone, Bobby Meza, Dorr Miller, Jack Nilla, Rudy Ortiz, Frank Redman, James Rogers Jr., Herbert Schwartz, Bill Squires, Thad Steele, Joe Valencia and Clyde Water.
Capital Improvements: Jack Young, vice chairman; Tony Apodaca, Enrique Bustamante, De. Donald J. Curran, R. T. Dempsey, Jetro Hills, Ben L. Ivey, Le Roy W. Leibrand, V.H. Lonnquist, Jack Rich, and William W. Upake.

COMMUNITY Promotion: John Richards, vice chairman, Leo (Turn to Page A-10)