

1500 Young Baseballers Open Season

Play ball!

That's what 1500 youngsters from all over El Paso heard yesterday at Memorial Softball Field as Larry Welsch, commissioner of Boys Baseball officially opened the season for the small fry.

Andy Cohen, University of Texas at El Paso baseball coach, was guest speaker and also hit the first baseball pitched by Mayor Pete de Wetter.

Forty eight major and 48 minor boys baseball teams were present for the first time together.

Parks and Recreation director Gene Stogner was Master of Ceremonies and introduced all of the officials of the program.
