

But Greed Costs Tech Red Raiders Whip Miners

By MARK LEIBSON

If Texas Tech hadn't been so greedy in the first game, maybe the Red Raiders would have returned to Lubbock with a split of the four-game series against the University of Texas at El Paso.

Instead, as Coach Kal Segrist's Raiders drove across run after run, 14 total in the first game Saturday, valuable daylight started turning into darkness.

And so having captured the opener from the Miners 14-4 at Dudley Field, Texas Tech had also built an impressive 8-2 advantage in the nightcap only to have the umpires call the game in the top of the fifth inning.

Since U.T. El Paso hadn't had its turn at bat, the game was declared no contest and Tech left town with a 1-2 record while Coach Andy Cohen's Miners lucked out with a 2-1 mark.

"We're lucky the umps called the game," said Cohen. "A 2-1 record is a lot better than splitting the four-game series."

U.T. El Paso opened the afternoon with the form and determination which carried the Miners to two victories Saturday over Tech.

With Roy Stringer on the mound, the Red Raiders struck first when Jim Horton singled to lead off the second inning, stole second and third and scored on Gary Ashby's sacrifice fly to deep center field.

But Stringer took matters into his own hands in the bottom of the frame when he sent a Kim Hunter pitch high over the right field wall, making the score read 1-1.

The Miners went ahead in the third when Art Bravo walked with one away. Steve Dau singled to left and Glenn Villareal cracked a double between center and right scoring both runners ahead of him.

One more Miner crossed the plate an inning later, started when Keith Rushing was nicked by Hunter's pitch. David Nance and Bravo followed with back-to-back singles loading the bags.

Segrist pulled his starter in favor of former Austin High School star David Runkel who proceeded to walk the next Miner batter, Dau, on four pitches to force Rushing home.

But then the little redhead bore down and struck out the next two Miner batters, leaving the sacks full.

From that point on, Runkel was flawless except for a fifth inning triple from Terry Dillingham.

Texas Tech exploded in the fifth for seven runs on five hits while sending 12 men to the plate. With two outs and a runner on first, Stringer lost control of his composure by walking Bryan Cowan and giving up a run scoring double to Ronnie Mattson.

Kim Nikkel followed with a line shot to right which just cleared the fence and gave Tech a 5-4 advantage.

"I had thoughts about intentionally walking Nikkel," explained Cohen, "but decided not to because another walk would have forced in a run."

After Nikkel's homer, Cohen sent Bob Knox to the mound to cool Tech's temperature. But the right-hander had his problems by allowing a walk and three singles with a hit batter sandwiched in between for three additional tallies. Reliever Mike Hilton ended the rally by forcing Bob Wiebe to pop up to the infield.

"It's funny how fast things can change," chuckled Cohen. "Yesterday, our pitching was real good but today, we didn't have a stopper."

With the outcome already determined, Texas Tech continued its scoring spree with six more runs in the sixth.

Game No. 2 was started over an hour late and by the third frame, the dusty skies of El Paso drew increasingly darker. With Tech at bat with two outs in the fifth, leading 7-3, the umpires decided play would be stopped.

"I'm just sorry we weren't in the sixth inning," said Segrist. "But I can't complain, it was getting dark out there."

Segrist was pleased though with the way his team broke out of its two-game batting slump. "I've known all along that we've had some good hitters and today, they finally broke out with the hits."

Waigwa, Stones T Records Fall In Indoor Cha

Special To The El Paso Times

OKLAHOMA CITY — University of Texas at El Paso's Wilson Waigwa shared meet honors with world record-breaking Dwight Stones here Saturday night at the United States Track and Field Federation's National Indoor Championships.

Waigwa, a sophomore and three-time All-America runner, ran the second fastest indoor mile in the world this year with a 3:57.0 clocking, 4.6 seconds ahead of challenger Mike Slack, and breaking the old 1972 meet record of 4:03.8 set by Tom Von Ruden of the Pacific Coast Track Club.

Waigwa's performance ushered in another U.T. El Paso school record, bettering his own 3:57.2 set last year about this same time in San Diego.

Stones, a lanky PCC competitor, erased his old 7-foot-5¼ standard set earlier this year at the Los Angeles Times Games, as he cleared 7-5½.

Other records came when Jim Bolding of Oklahoma, set a 600-yard dash mark in the special finals, of 1:09.2 to break David Crowe's old 1:09.9 record of last year (Crowe is from Louisiana Tech). Bolding had to leave for the Toronto Games early, and Colorado State's Bob Barry took the regular 600 in 1:11.0.

Kansas's mile relay team turned in a 3:14.9 mile relay clocking to eclipse the 3:15.2 set last year by Oklahoma State and Jayhawk Waddell Smith set a 440-yard dash record in 48.1, bettering Dennis Schultz of the PCTC's old 48.3.

Colorado's Kingsley Adams set a long jump mark of 25-7½, more than two inches farther than Randy Williams of Southern California's 1974 mark.

Coach Ted Banks was elated on Waigwa's performance, which earned him the "Outstanding Track Runner of the Meet" award. "It was really gratifying, for myself and also him (Waigwa)," Coach Banks relayed from Oklahoma City.

Banks was further bouyed on his Miners successfully defending their NCAA indoor team title next month in Detroit, when frehsman Joseph Gichongi met the 600 national standard by finishing fourth in 1:11.4, but had a 1:10.8 in the preliminaries which earned him an NCAA ticket.

Arizona Ho

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Arizona's Al Fleming picked up a loose ball with five seconds remaining to preserve a 93-89 Western Athletic Conference basketball victory over Utah Saturday.

Fleming grabbed the loose ball off the hands of Utah's Ticky Burden in the closing seconds of the regionally televised contest. Arizona led 91-89 at the time.

Jim Rappis was fouled at the buzzer as Fleming passed the ball and he added two free throws after the final gun.

The victory keeps Arizona in second place in the WAC with a 6-4 mark while Utah fell to 4-5.

The close contest saw the ball change hands 12 times and the scored tied an equal number of times.

Sophomore Bob Elliott led all scorers with 38 points, a career high. Adding to the
