

EYE TO EYE CONFRONTATION — Andy Cohen, (R) manager of the University of Texas at El Paso baseball team, is determined his Miners will show the professional El Paso Diablos a lesson or two. But Rojo General Manager Jimmy Paul doesn't see it that way. U.T. El Paso and the Diablos take to the Dudley Field infield at 7 p.m. Wednesday in an exhibition game. —(Photo by Luis Villalobos) who played with the Chicago Bulls and has returned to NMU as an assistant coach.

One of the members of the Miracle Midgets, 6-2 center John Gambill, summed up the feelings of the Aggies.

"The only regret I had during my college career was that I had only one season under Coach Henson," says Gambill, who is now a police captain in Seattle.

The only regret that New Mexico State fans have now is that they had only nine seasons under Henson.

Diablo Ducats Being Mailed

The El Paso Diablos are in the process of mailing out box and reserved seat tickets this week so purchasers will receive their orders before the season opener at Dudley Field April 17.

General Manager Jimmy Paul said that plenty of good seats for the season are available and can be picked up at the Diablo office underneath the grandstand at Dudley Field.

The Diablos begin the Texas League season Friday on the road against Midland's Cubs. El Paso's first appearance at home will be against the Shreveport Captains for six games followed by a 14-day game slate with San Antonio.

Diablo fans can have a first hand glimpse of Manager Jimmy Williams' new El Paso team at 7 p.m. Wednesday when the Rojos meet the University of Texas at El Paso in an exhibition game at Dudley Field.

World Series or Outrage

More importantly, however, it stamped him as a prime candidate for the famed green jacket that goes to the winner of next week's Master's Tournament, the first of the season's four major events.

Weiskopf has never won that tournament but has finished second three times and now goes in with highly impressive credentials.

In this one, the front-running Weiskopf holed a 50-foot sidehill putt for the clinching eagle on the ninth hole. That gave

Tournament

Elder, who will be the first of his race to play in the famed event at Augusta, Ga. next week, holed out a 181-yard shot with a five iron for a two on the par five, 477-yard 14th hole at the Sedgefield Country Club course.

It was the first double eagle in a full year of play on the pro golf tour. The last was scored by Larry Wise in this tournament a year ago.

Elder finished with a final round of 69 and a 72-hole total of 286, two over par.
