

Miners Convinced

ASU Seeks No. 1 Ranking

Arizona State University left no doubt in anybody's mind Saturday that the Sun Devils deserve one of the highest rankings in the country.

Replaced from the No. 1 ranking by South Alabama in the latest poll for some reason, Coach Jim Brock's Sun Devils wanted to make sure the University of Texas at El Paso would give its top votes to ASU the next time anyone asked.

Behind the two-hit pitching of Greg Cochran, Arizona State used the powerful hitting of Ken Landreaux and Ken Phelps to destroy the Miners 12-0 in the first game of the doubleheader at Dudley Field.

The second contest was almost a repeat as ASU collected 20 hits, eight for extra bases, while running over Coach Andy Cohen's crew 18-6.

Arizona State quickly gave Cochran a four-run lead in the first inning of the initial game and the steady righthander responded with almost perfect control while striking out 12 U.T. El Paso batters in the seven inning affair while not allowing a walk.

The only two hits off Cochran came in the sixth when Steve Dau doubled and the seventh on Glenn Villarreal's single. In both innings, Cochran proceeded to strike out the other three batters he faced.

Landreaux, Clay Westlake

and Phelps all scored three runs apiece for ASU while Phelps also batted home a trio of runners as teammates Garret Strong and Jerry Maddox each accounted for two RBIs.

The second game started out with a small surprise as the Miners were leading ASU after the first inning 2-1. With the Sun Devils up by one, Art Bravo led off with a single and moved to second on an error.

Joey Pennies reached first on a fielder's choice and Keith Rushing followed with a double to right-center field scoring Bravo. Terry Dillingham added a single to score Pennies.

ASU tied the game with a run in the second, added another in the third on Landreaux' 10th home run of the season and then broke the game apart one inning later with a seven-run rally behind eight hits.

U.T. El Paso scored two more runs in the fourth as Joe Dehn clobbered his third homer of the year with Terry Dillingham on base to cut the margin to 10-4.

The Sun Devils quickly took matters into their own hands with another outburst in the sixth which produced five runs as ASU assured itself of a perfect 6-0 Western Athletic Conference record while the Miners dropped to 0-6 in WAC play. Overall, ASU is 40-6 while U.T. El Paso fell below the .500 mark with a 15-17 record.
