

Cohen's Reign As Manager Short, Sweet

By United Press International

It was short and sweet for interim Manager Andy Cohen of the Phillies, who came down from cloud nine Friday and went back to the coaching line again.

Cohen waited 30 years for a crack at a major league managing job and when he finally got it, through a strange combination of circumstances, he certainly made the most of it.

Out-slicking Charlie Dressen, he led Philadelphia to a 10-inning, 5-4 victory over Milwaukee Thursday night and if nothing else, Cohen can always say he "retired" as the most successful manager in Phillies' history.

Cohen knew he was simply a stop-gap until Gene Mauch, the Phillies' new pilot, could join the club from Florida.

The Braves jumped in front with three runs in the first inning when Hank Aaron slammed a two-run homer and Joe Adcock followed with a solo blast. But the Phils battled back and tied the score at 4-4.

Bobby Del Greco, who had homered earlier, walked to open the 10th and stole second. Jim Coker flied out and Cohen then sent up Ted Lepcio to hit for pitcher Don Cardwell, whose homer tied the score in the sixth. Dressen countered by bringing in Bob Giggie to relieve Juan Pizarro.

Not to be out-done, Cohen replaced Lepcio with left-handed John Callison, who was purposely passed. After all that master-minding, Joe Koppe singled home the winning run. Alvin Dark of the Phils collected his 2,000th hit when he singled during a three-run sixth.

The Dodgers handed the Cardinals their third straight loss, 3-2; the Cubs inflicted the first defeat of the season upon the Giants, 6-5, and the Pirates crushed the Reds, 13-0.
