

Columbus Day Celebrated In School 1

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades of School 1 presented a special program recently commemorating Columbus Day. The program was placed on tape and then played before the student body in a meeting in the school auditorium.

The program consisted of a short play written by Nevada Hurlbut of the eighth grade concerning the discovery of America, the cast including Bill Bowen as Columbus; Alan Ameigh as the first mate; Burton Brunell, cabin boy, and John Pastore, lookout. Penny Leggett was narrator.

A choral reading of "Christopher Columbus" by Joaquin Miller was performed by the sixth grade and Eileen Lake of the seventh grade read the humorous poem, "Christopher Columbus" by Stephen Vincent Benet.

Russell Madsen and Andy Cohen gave an account of the "Character of Columbus" and James Langford sang "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

Commentators for the program included Sandra Zielonko and Shirley Shagalski.
