

Lobos Slug UTEP

By FRANK MAESTAS

The rumor that New Mexico has the worst pitching staff in the Western Athletic Conference is just that — a rumor — the distinction of being the worst belongs to Texas-El Paso.

UTEP Coach Andy Cohen paraded six hurlers to the mound against New Mexico Friday but none of them had any success and as a result the Lobos walked off with a 15-10 victory.

The two teams meet again today in a double-header and at stake will be last place in the WAC Southern Division. UNM needs only a split to escape the cellar.

The win by the Lobos Friday was their first in league play since the defeated the Miners April 7. In between they lost 12.

Four times New Mexico fell behind and four times it came bacc to tie or take the lead. The Lobos erased the last UTEP lead of 8-7 by scoring eight times in the eighth inning to put it out of reach.

Leading the New Mexico 19-hit attack was designated hitter Billy Smith who banged two triples and a single in five trips and drove in five runs.

Hank Garcia and Dan Fitzgerald also had three hits each with Garcia and Lloyd Thompson had two RBI each. It was Thompson's single in the eighth which scored Joe Pistano with the tying run. Thompson then scored the tie-breaker on another single by Ron Adair.

Glenn Villareal had a three-run homer and two singles to lead the Miners' attack which produced 13 hits. Joe Kuenstler also had three hits and drove in three runs.

Villareal gave UTEP an early 5-0 lead with his homer in the fourth.

Bob Knox baffled the Lobos with a slow assortment of pitches through five innings but the Lobos caught up with him in the sixth and tied it at 5-5.
