But It's Short-Lived

Miners Set Streak Record

The University of Texas at El Paso's newly established win streak of 10 games was short-lived Saturday, when New York City's Baruch College dumped the Miners 7-4 in the second game of a doubleheader at Dudley Field.

City Entrants Finish Low

Special to The El Paso Times
AMARILLO, Tex. — El Paso's entrants in the annual Amarillo Relays, Irvin and Jefferson, did not fare too well in the two-day event.
Irvin placed 10th in the 16-team field, mostly on the strength of its high jump entrants. Joe D La Cerdas captured the blue ribbon with a leap of 6-8 and Jon Thom took sixth place.
Jesse Mats finished third in the 800-yard run to wind up the Rockets' scoring.
Jefferson ended its efforts in 14th place. Juan Olivares was fifth in the 880. Mike Fuentes finished sixth in the 440-yard dash. Ferné Nieto took a sixth in the mile run and the Jefferson mile relay squad was fifth.

Earlier in the day, U.T. El Paso's Roy Stringer won his fourth game of the season against no losses as he gave up two runs and his mates battered Lubbock Christian 12-2.
The split ran U.T. El Paso's record for the year to 18-8, equal to the total number of games won in 1973.
Coach Andy Cohen will go with Mike Hilton when the Miners journey to Las Cruces for a 4 p.m. double header against the Aggies of New Mexico State University in Apodaca Park Tuesday.
"We'll just have to try and get that winning streak going again," Cohen said following the Baruch bombing. "I told the boys if we had to lose one, it may as well come now rather than against somebody like Arizona State (due here April 5-6) when we open the Western Athletic Conference."
Stringer's 15 strikeouts set a team record for the Miners, two better than the old mark against the University of Arizona in 1971. It was a day for records at Dudley Field.
They both came when U.T. El Paso staged another one of its come-from-behind rallies, this one after the Chapparrals had taken a 1-0 lead on Ken Burton's home run in the second inning with nobody aboard.

After David Nance drew a walk off starter Will McCauley, Herb Von Hagen's sacrifice bunt moved him to second as the Statesmen missed the tag. Glenn Villarreal then singled and Nance crossed home to tie it at 1-1.
Joe Pennies drew a walk, loading the bases, then Stringer drew another base-on-balls and Von Hagen scored setting the tone for a home run by Terry Dillingham with the count a 1-0.
In four turns at bat, Dillingham got three hits, drove in six RBI's and scored a run, himself.
The Miners padded their lead in the fourth with lead-off man Von Hagen polling one out of the park, followed by Mark Miller's single. Villarreal sliced a single to right field but the outfielder dropped it and Miller moved to third, took the high sign and raced home for the score.
Pennies got a double and Villarreal scored and the Miners enjoyed a 9-1 margin.
LCC got another run in the fifth but U.T. El Paso came back with a clincher in the sixth inning when Villarreal got his third hit of the game in three trips to the plate, rapping out a single. He moved to third then Bob Downing tried to stretch out a single and Baruch bobbed it second attempting the tag.

Pennies drew another walk (his third of the game) followed by a double by Dillingham scoring two mates.
Then Baruch took over Dudley Field, as if three losses to the Miners wasn't enough earlier in the week.
But they stored back, determined to take a win back to New York City.
"They were just out to win, that's all there was to it," Cohen said. "As far as I'm concerned the game was over—for us—in the first two innings."
The Statesmen got to starter David Jannusch for six runs, too much for the Miners to catch up, although they staged a mild rally in the fourth inning.
Villarreal walked and was promptly rushed home when Keith Rushing slammed a two-run homer out of Dudley against strong winds. Downing then rapped out a two-bagger and Pennies brought him home.

SAUL KLEINFELD
... Into Athletic Hall of Fame

Kleinfeld Named To Hall Of Fame

Seldom a sporting event is held in El Paso that Saul Kleinfeld isn't directly involved. And in recognition of his participation, Kleinfeld is being inducted into the El Paso Athletic Hall of Fame.
A resident of El Paso 38 years, the 63-year-old Kleinfeld plays no favorites. Basketball, Baseball, Football, Golf, Bowling, Boxing. You name it and Kleinfeld has served as either a sponsor or coach or — sometimes even a participant.
Saul has a purpose in mind and it's more than just winning. Mainly, it's supporting worthy causes and children in particular that prompts his promoting efforts.
"Mr. Kleinfeld is being nominated as much for those he has helped in the sports world as he is his actual performance in the world of athletics," the EP Athletic Hall of Fame said in nominating Kleinfeld.
Kleinfeld will be honored with other new inductees at a dinner April 9 at El Paso Country Club. Tickets are available from Hall of Fame committee members and at all El Paso banks and the Southwestern Sun Carnival office.

Public relations director and sales manager of Union Furniture, Kleinfeld was a good athlete in his own right. The Golden Gloves welterweight boxing champion of New Jersey in 1927, he also was a starting forward on the "Wonder Team" of Pasia, N.J., which won 159 straight games.
In addition, Kleinfeld got in his share of football, baseball and cross country.
However, Kleinfeld is best noted for his efforts each year in promoting the Harlem Globetrotters El Paso appearance and for his coaching success with the Union Furniture City League team, which won another championship only Friday night.
The Hall of Fame isn't the only organization to heap praise on Kleinfeld. His list of awards and honors reflects the man hours he has put into El Paso sports and civic endeavors.
"He has a particular fondness for the little people, the kids and particularly for those less fortunate than most," said a Hall of Fame spokesman. "His activities on their behalf never end and take many forms. He has been known to climb a ring to referee a wrestling match for the entertainment of the little ones."
Announcement of Kleinfeld's induction completes the list of new inductees into the player and administrative category.
This year's awards banquet will feature southwest Conference football broadcaster and Western Athletic Conference basketball telecaster Connie Alexander as guest speaker. Bill Green will serve as master of ceremonies.

Sun No Fun For Bucs

The Associated Press
The Pittsburgh Pirates, in general, and pitchers Bruce Kison and Steve Blass, in particular, did not enjoy their Saturday afternoon in the sun at Bradenton, Fla.
The Chicago White Sox split squad beat Kison and the Pirates 5-4 in an A game and then whipped Blass and Co. 6-5 in a B game.
Ken Henderson's fourth-inning home run won the A work. The onetime ace of the Pittsburgh staff is now 0-4 this spring and has surrendered 17 earned runs and 33 walks in just 20 innings.
Elsewhere in exhibition baseball, Cincinnati edged St. Louis 4-3 in 10 innings; Montreal blanked the New York Mets 5-0; Philadelphia topped Minnesota 7-2; the Chicago Cubs dumped Milwaukee 8-4; the New York Yankees outlasted Baltimore 10-9 in 11 innings; Oakland pounded San Association 133-5.

Johnny Bench drove in Cincinnati's decisive run with a sacrifice fly. St. Louis lefty John Curtis held the Reds scoreless through eight innings.
Steve Rogers scattered four hits over seven innings in Montreal's victory over the Mets. Ron Fairly contributed a two-run single.
Dave Cash and Larry Bowa collected two hits apiece for Philadelphia. Rod Carew made
