

Lobos Come S

The University of New Mexico clinched at least a tie for third place in the Western Athletic Conference Southern Division baseball race by pasting 15-2 loss on the University of Texas at El Paso Friday at Dudley Field.

For the Miners it was their seventh straight loss—10th straight in the WAC—moving their record to 24-25 overall and 2-14 in league play.

U.T. El Paso now needs a sweep of Saturday's doubleheader to tie the Lobos in the conference. That sweep would also tie the school record for most wins in a season, 26.

New Mexico, which went into the contest with a six-game WAC loss skein of its own, was led by infielder Mark Hiller's grand-slam home run in the third.

That last just added insurance runs as the Wolfpack jumped out to an early lead off Miner starter Roy Stringer. UNM greeted Stringer in the first with three runs and five hits, including doubles by Hiller and Gary Steart.

New Mexico added five more in the fourth, capped by Hiller's blast overth right-field fence.

Tony Medellin came on to quiet the Lobo attack the next three innings, but when he couldn't retire a batter in the seventh, Mike Hilton was called to stop the UNM five-run rally.

U.T. El Paso could muster only three single run-innings off Ron Adair now 5-4. The biggest hits off the Lobo left-hander were doubles by Bob Dwoning, Keith Rushing and Stringer.

In the first, the Miners marked on a lead-off single by Herb Von Hagen a walk to
