

F-M Manager To Make Bow As Player

Ken Silvestri, manager of the Fargo-Moorhead Twins, will make his debut as a player in the exhibition baseball game against the Denver Bears of the American Assn. at Barnett Field Monday night. The game is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Silvestri, a catcher for three teams in both major leagues, has agreed to go behind the bat for part of the Monday exhibition, probably sharing the job with Norm Kampschror and Steve Crihfield.

Silvestri made his debut in the majors with the Chicago White Sox. He was traded to the New York Yankees, and finished his career with the Philadelphia Phillies.

The F-M pilot has not indicated who he might pitch against the Bears. The Fargo-Moorhead staff has a heavy schedule ahead on its final road trip, to Eau Claire and Duluth-Superior, with the possibility of nine games in five days, with eight certain to be scheduled.

Andy Cohen, former manager of the Eau Claire Braves of the Northern League, and his Denver team will arrive here in their private plane at 8:30 Monday morning.

The Bears, scheduled in St. Paul Tuesday and Wednesday, will leave here at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Denver and Fargo-Moorhead are affiliated with the New York Yankees system.

Cohen was one of the speakers at the second annual Eagles baseball dinner here in February. At that time he promised he would try to bring the Bears here for an exhibition game.

Also on the Denver roster is John Blanchard of Minneapolis, a catcher, being groomed to replace Yogi Berra at Yankee Stadium. Blanchard also was a guest at the baseball dinner here.

The demand for reserved box seats indicates that one of the largest crowds of the season will watch Monday's game.

There will be no advance in prices for the Denver exhibition. Regular Northern League prices will prevail.

The Knot-hole Gang privileges, however, will be off for Monday.

The game is being played a half hour later than usual to accommodate those living in areas where standard time is observed.

Infielder: Curt Roberts, second baseman of the Denver Bears, who play the Fargo-Moorhead Twins in an exhibition game at Barnett Field Monday night at 8, was a discovery of Andy Cohen, Denver manager. Roberts, a former high school athlete at Oakland, Calif., was scouted by Cohen while playing winter ball in Mexico in 1951. He played all of the 1954 season with Pittsburgh.

Engebretson Bids For N. D. Shoe Repeat

KINDRED, N. D. — Art Engbretson of Fargo goes after his second straight North Dakota state horseshoe Class A title next Saturday and Sunday.

The 36th annual event will be held on the courts in Wildlife Park, located one mile south of here. The tourney is divided into four classes, with 12 competing in Class A and eight each in the B, C, and D divisions. About 40 entrants are anticipated.

Engbretson has one leg on the traveling trophy which is awarded to the Class A champion. A player must win it three times for permanent possession.

Harvey Peterson of Havana is defending Class B champion. Orley Johnsgaard of Fargo is the Class C titleholder.

A qualifying round of 200 shoes may be shot any evening from Monday until 3:30 p.m. Saturday. Entries also will be accepted up to that time.

Classes C and D will begin play at 4 p.m. Saturday in the round robin tourney. Sunday at 9 a.m. Classes B and A will compete.

Only North Dakota residents are eligible. Entries are expected from Langdon, Devils Lake, Enderlin, Valley City, Havana, Litchville, Fargo, Kindred, Casselton and Arthur.
