

By LESTER KOELLING
News Sportswriter

CHARLESTON—The extra ante it took to sign Jim Delsing to an Indianapolis contract may turn out to be money well spent.

Only it wasn't Indianapolis money. Delsing was an obstinate holdout in March and it appeared that he might sit out the season. The Indianapolis club had made its final offer, and it wasn't enough to satisfy the veteran outfielder.

But everything turned out all right when the Chicago White Sox, who had "sold" Delsing to the Indians, offered to make up the difference in the contract hassle. Delsing signed and reported in time for the last 10 days of spring practice.

Last night, Jim stretched a hitting streak to 14 games with a bases-full triple during a 10-6 Tribe victory over the Senators. And when Delsing singled in the ninth, he upped his season average to .344, high on the club among the regulars.

"I honestly don't know whether that's my longest hitting streak or not," said Jim. "I've had several in double figures, but just what they were I don't recall."

Delsing has failed to hit safely in only two of the Tribe's 17 games and his collection of 22 hits in 64 trips, includes six doubles, a triple and two homers. He also has batted in nine runs, but in that department he has to take a back seat to three other fellows.

The important angle in Delsing's hitting has been the number of rallies started or prolonged. Jim hasn't had too many opportunities to knock in runs, but as a leadoff hitter in an inning he's almost always started something, even though it wasn't always finished.

The club leadership in RBI's has passed on to Dick DiTusa,

TRIBE BOX SCORE

INDIANAPOLIS (10)
*B.	Av.	AB	BB	R	H	O	A	E
Frohovich, 3b	..	116	6	0	1	1	0	0
Garcia, 2b		277	4	2	2	1	3	3	0
Delsing, rf		333	4	1	3	2	4	0	0
Jackson, lb		317	5	0	1	2	7	3	0
Beard, cf		273	3	2	1	3	4	0	0
DiTusa, lf		333	5	0	0	2	4	0	0
Hairston, c		297	4	1	0	0	1	1	0
Valdivieso, ss		173	5	0	1	2	1	3	0
Ponce, p		333	4	0	3	2	0	0	0
Spencer, p		1,000	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
.....273 40 6 10 16 27 10 0

CHARLESTON (6)

*B.	Av.	AB	BB	R	H	O	A	E
Phillips, 2b		200	5	0	1	1	1	4	0
Hicks, 3b		245	4	1	0	0	1	1	1
Thorpe, rf		324	5	0	2	3	0	1	0
Wilson, lf		292	5	0	1	3	1	0	0
Stevens, lb		234	4	0	0	0	9	2	0
McGhee, cf		264	4	0	1	2	0	0	1
Low, c		147	4	0	0	0	7	1	0
Veal, ss		143	4	0	0	2	7	6	2
Tsitouris, p		000	1	0	0	1	1	1	0
Nicholas, p		000	2	0	0	0	1	1	0
Howes, p		000	1	0	1	0	0	0	0
.....240 39 1 4 13 27 17 4

aSingled for Nicholas in 9th.

At start of game.
Indianapolis.....201 411 010-10
Charleston.....100 003 002-6
Runs batted in—Delsing 3, Beard 2, DiTusa 2, Hairston, Thorpe 3, Wilson 2, Veal. Two bases—Frohovich, McGhee. Three bases—Delsing, Beard. Home runs—Thorpe, Wilson. Sacrifice—Ponce. Double play—Tsitouris to Veal to Stevens; Jackson to Valdivieso to Jackson. Left on base—Indianapolis 11, Charleston 7.

PITCHING SUMMARY

	IP	H	R	ER	BB	SO	WP
Ponce	8 2/3	13	6	1	0	0	0
Spencer	1/3	0	0	0	0	1	0
Tsitouris	3	7	7	6	4	2	0
Nicholas	6	9	3	2	2	4	0
Winning pitcher—Ponce (13-1). Losing pitcher—Tsitouris (2-2). Passed ball—Hairston. Hit by pitcher—By Tsitouris (Delsing). Umpires—Carney, Carrigan and O'Toole. Time—2:12. Attendance—1,127.

the Chicago youngster who didn't start seeing regular action until a week ago. Dick drove in two tallies with two hits last night for a season total of 13 in nine games as a starter. For those nine games his batting average is .325 and for the season it's .333.

Teddy Beard drove in two runs with a triple and a single to boost his season total to 12, one more than Ron Jackson, who could have taken the lead last night on two opportunities to bat in runs.

With all the emphasis on hitting (the Tribe collected 16 hits last night for a season high) another important streak almost has escaped attention. The Tribe's errorless game last night was the eighth straight in fielding perfection.

In bold contrast to the sharp hitting and fielding was the unsteady pitching of Tony Ponce, who yielded 13 hits and finally needed relief after two

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

STANDINGS

	Won	Lost	Pct.	GB
Wichita	10	4	.714	...
St. Paul	10	7	.588	1 1/2
Minneapolis	10	7	.588	1 1/2
Denver	7	5	.583	2
Omaha	10	8	.556	2
INDIANAPOLIS	7	10	.412	4 1/2
Charleston	7	11	.389	5
Louisville	2	11	.154	7 1/2

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Minneapolis		012 000 001-4	5 0
St. Paul		012 000 000-3	10 2
Miller and Schmidt; McDewitt and Howell.
Omaha		101 000 010-3	11 1
Denver		300 500 00x-8	14 0
Kutyna, Stabelfeld (4), McClain (7) and Command; Freeman and Blanchard.
LP—Kutyna.
NR—Denver: Throneberry, Siebern.

Louisville at Wichita, postponed, rain.

TONIGHT'S GAMES

INDIANAPOLIS (Papai and Szyzewski) at Charleston (Wadeschick and Lewis) (2).
St. Paul (McMinn) at Minneapolis (Carwin).
Omaha (Mabe) at Denver (Monroe).
Louisville (Haskins) at Wichita (Willey).

TOMORROW'S GAMES

INDIANAPOLIS at Charleston.
St. Paul at Minneapolis.
Louisville at Wichita (2).
Omaha at Denver.

MONDAY'S GAMES

INDIANAPOLIS at Louisville.
Omaha at Minneapolis.
Denver at St. Paul.
Wichita at Charleston.

were out in the ninth. Ponce did not issue a walk until that time, and his theory of making 'em hit almost was carried too far.

He was on the verge of a shower in the sixth when the Senators, who have lost 10 of their last 12 games after a fast start, bunched four hits for three runs. Then, with two out in the ninth, he gave up a walk and three more hits before George Spencer doused the fire with a strikeout.

"I'm still not satisfied with our pitching," commented Manager Andy Cohen. "We have too many soft-throwing guys. We need more fellows who can fire that ball—well, one more at least."

Manager Cohen will take another good look at Ed Szyzewski, the lad who stunned St. Paul last Saturday, in one of tonight's two games. A scheduled double-header for tomorrow has been rebooked as a single game, possibly because of Charleston's riddled staff.

But it's agreeable to Manager Cohen, whose staff also is somewhat weary in view of the frequent changes in the Denver series. The Indians will open a four-game series in Louisville Monday.

Gophers Beat Purdue to Take Big 10 Lead

By Associated Press

Minnesota's defending Big 10 champions took over the Conference baseball lead yesterday by beating Purdue, 1-0, on an 8-4, for its first triumph after toppled Michigan to its first defeat.

Wisconsin defeated Michigan,