

Richard Johnson, 8, of 2118 N. Fisher, gets some batting tips from Tribe Manager Andy Cohen at The News clinic. Kneeling is Catcher Johnny Lewis, 11, of 3920 N. Tacoma, while Johnny Barnes, 11, of 361 S. Catherwood, looks on.—The News Photo, Larry George.

900 Boys Learn Baseball From Tribe as Clinic Opens

By W. F. FOX JR.
Sports Editor

Young Americans, ages 8 through 11, came to Victory Field this morning to learn our national pastime from members of the Indianapolis Indians baseball club.

Manager Andy Cohen and his men, a bit tired from playing two double-headers in a row, went to their positions for group teaching to open the 2-hour annual clinic.

Tomorrow boys 12 through 16 will be taught the fundamentals of all departments of baseball.

"This is a wonderful thing," said Manager Cohen. "Not merely that the kids show tremendous interest, but that The News takes the trouble to give these boys an opportunity to learn baseball from professionals."

Charles LaFara, catcher for the Edgewood Boosters, forgot about the age limit. It was his third year.

"I'm 12," he said. "I think the Indians will finish about third. Can I come in today?" They were glad to have him.

Jack Morgan, football coach at Southport, and Rudy Stempel, also a sponsor, arrive under police escort and three trucks with 75 boys from the Willard Park area, all sponsored by the Mustang Club.

When the boys were divided into groups for individual instruction, these tips were given:

Catcher Sam Hairston: "Be sure of your balance so you

Protection For Our Readers

is the purity of the champagne. Being a French champagne producer, we are proud to export our sparkling wine.

We export our sparkling wine mainly to the United States, but also to the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Japan, and other countries.

As a result, we have many customers in these countries. We are proud to export our sparkling wine to these countries.

Being a sparkling wine producer, we have many customers in these countries. We are proud to export our sparkling wine to these countries.

The Champagne Association, AOC, is a French organization that promotes the Champagne region. It is a French organization that promotes the Champagne region.

Being a French organization, we are proud to export our sparkling wine to these countries.

The Indianapolis News

Ike Picks Island in Bay

By United Press

WASHINGTON—The White House announced today that "if and when" the President takes a vacation this summer he will go to the U.S. naval base on Coasters Harbor Island off Newport, R.I.

Ending the guessing about the President's vacation site, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the mile-long island, with golf, fresh and salt-water fishing and boating available, is the spot picked by President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Hagerty said it is "possible" that the President may go to the island in Narragansett Bay while the Senate is embroiled in its civil rights debate, expected to last most of the summer.

Rocket Laden Jets Crash; Pilots Escape

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—Two rocket laden jet planes collided in flight 20,000 feet over the Catalina Mountains but one pilot was only bruised and the other wasn't even scratched.

The flyers, Lt. Joseph Onate, Newton, Mass., and Lt. G. H. VanFleet, Los Angeles, parachuted to safety after their F86D Sabrejets, carrying "hot" rockets, rammed each other last evening.

BASEBALL FOR AUSSIES? IT'S NOT CRICKET

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representative Clarence J. Brown (R., O.) complained today the State Department will spend tax money to send Lou Brissie, former major league pitcher, to Australia to teach baseball.

A State Department press release, Brown said, announced Brissie will "conduct baseball clinics and advise baseball unions and officials . . . on developing the game among the youth of that country."

"Of course, cricket—not baseball—is Australia's national game," Brown asserted in a news letter to constituents.

Brissie formerly pitched for the Cleveland Indians and the Philadelphia Athletics, and was with the Indianapolis Indians briefly.