LOPEZ HINTS HELP

Al Still Sees
First Division
Finish for Tribe

By LESTER KOELLING

Al Lopez, who left town today to rejoin his Chicago White Sox, clings to the belief that the Indianapolis Indians will finish in the first division.

That's a high note of optimism, because after last night's 6-2 loss to St. Paul, the Tribe dropped to within one-half game of seventh place and fell eight games behind the fourth-place club. The defeat was the fourth straight during which the Indians have scored a total of only six runs.

"Your club is not that bad," Koelling said Lopez in his farewell address. Then, turning to Manager Andy Cohen, the Senator confided, "We'll do something to get you some help."

After watching the Indians lose four games, Lopez was more convinced than on his arrival that assistance would be necessary if the club is to finish in the first division. The Senator was surprised, and perturbed, to learn that the Tribe has grounded into 83 infield double plays this year, six in the last four games.

Lopez left without shedding further light on the possibility of the White Sox taking Ted Board. But he was more convincing in his "arguments" that one of the purposes of his visit was to appraise the Indianapolis club and determine where help was needed most.

There has been sincere and genuine effort on the part of the White Sox organization to have a good club here in the first year of a working agreement. That was indicated strongly last spring and reaffirmed recently when Chuck Comiskey, vice-president of the Sox, came here and commented, "This is a two-way street. We're here to see how we can help you and you can help us."

As the Senator bid his adieu last night, he shed formality for his more familiar wise cracking and said: "Now that I'm leaving you can start winning again, Andy. I must be the jinx."

Manager Cohen called on 16 players — four under his full complement—in an effort to overhaul the Saints last night and halt the Tribe's skid. But the best the Indians could do was author two solo homers, one by Charley Williams, his first of the season, and the other by John Romano, his 11th.

Ron Negray, doing a second term for the Saints, limited the Indians to three hits in the first six innings. But he appeared "done up" in the seventh when he yielded two hits and two walks, his only passes of the game. Still, the Indians couldn't score, a double play being the bugaboo.

The Saints, on the other hand, slapped Al Papai around for seven hits and three runs before the veteran was rescued by George Spencer who gave up only two hits in a stout four-inning stint, but the Saints found the range again against Tom Flanagan although two of their
