

Indians, "Shook Up" by Cohen, "Shake Up" Saints

By LESTER KOELLING

Baseball teams, like the human body, can take only so much abuse and then something happens.

The Indianapolis Indians, for instance, had lost four straight and suddenly found themselves in a 7-0 hole after two innings of the fifth game. This was against St. Paul, last night, and the gleeful Saints were preparing for a feast on the fatted calf.

Then it happened. The Indians exploded. They scored five runs in their half of the second, tied the score in the fourth on Ron Jackson's homer, his 13th and first in 18 days, regained the lead in the sixth after the Saints took an 8-7 edge in the fifth, and poured it on with nine runs in the last two innings for a 19-8 rout. It was their highest run production of the season and the 21 hits matched their season high in that respect.

"Something made 'em fighting mad," commented Manager Andy Cohen. "It may have been that 7-0 deficit or it may have been something I said in a pregame meeting. Whatever it was I hope they stay mad. That's what they need, to show more fighting spirit."

Manager Cohen revealed that he had admonished the boys in a clubhouse session on what he termed their "lackadaisical attitude" after winning a few games.

"There has been too much contentment after winning a few games," said Cohen. "They have been too easily satisfied. They needed to be shook up."

Whether it was Cohen or the haughty Saints, something "shook up" the Indians. They haven't looked that mean all season.

Now the problem is how to stay mean against the Minneapolis Millers, who open a four-game series here tonight. The Indians will have the added inspiration of a large crowd, which is expected to exceed 15,000 for Sam Ziffrin's Burger Beer Night.

Jackson, Ted Beard and Charley Williams directed the Indianapolis steam roller, each with four hits. Vince Garcia and Sam Hairston each contributed three. Jackson batted in five runs for his biggest night since June 23, and Williams drove in six tallies with a triple, a double and two singles.

Williams' three-bagger drove in the first two runs during the five-run second and his double, scoring two runs, sent in the 8-8 tie-breaker in the sixth. Since taking over for Don Prohovich at third base, Williams has bagged seven hits in 12 trips.

Williams may not be a classy fielding third-sacker, but he's handy with the stick and as long as he hits, Manager Cohen has no other choice but to keep him in the lineup. Charley was purchased from Nashville last winter purely as a utility infielder, a fact known and accepted by him, but not necessarily relished.

With all the hitting by the Indians, and by the Saints earlier in the game, it would appear that pitching had become a lost art. But Barry Latman, fourth Tribe hurler, upheld the standards of his trade with a brilliant five-inning relief stint in which he permitted only one St. Paul batter to reach base. Bud Hutson singled in the eighth. Latman did not issue a walk and fanned four while picking up his eighth victory.
