

Take Out Frustration on St. Paul's Saints

By LESTER KOELLING, News Sportswriter
ST. PAUL—No word in the dictionary describes the Indianapolis Indians more aptly than "unpredictable."

There are times when you think they won't lose another game, and times when you wonder how they ever won any. There are occasions when you're glad you came along, and occasions when you wish you had stayed in your own backyard.

They can look so futile, and so frustrating, like in Denver, and then bounce back and look sharp as a tack, like here in the double-header they won last night, 2-1 and 8-4. It was rather amazing that the Indians should perform as well as they did.

They were routed from their beds in Denver at 5 o'clock yesterday morning to catch a 6 o'clock plane. They had Koelling a 4-hour layover in 100° heat at Omaha. They didn't check in the hotel here until 4:30 yesterday afternoon, just in time to grab a snack and head for the ball park.

They didn't take hitting or fielding practice, they just started playing and at the end of a hot and humid night, they limped into the dressing room with their fifth twin-bill sweep of the season and a tie for fourth place, only one-half game behind third. It was a rewarding evening after a day of hardships that only an American Association schedule can invoke.

WINNING TRIP IS ASSURED

The double victory, behind the steady pitching of Jim McDonald and Barry Latman, enabled the Indians to close the books on July with an impressive record of 22 victories against 13 defeats for the month. It also gave them an 8-7 edge over the Saints on season play and assured them of a winning road trip and of going home to Victory Field tomorrow no worse than .500.

The Indians were too tired and weary for any clubhouse hilarity that usually follows a double-header sweep. They showered and dressed in record time and made the curfew as useless as Manager Andy Cohen's blue suit coat has been on this trip. He forgot to bring along the trousers.

One of the last to leave the clubhouse was poor old Sam Hairston, who not only caught both games, but also warmed up the pitchers before each game. Sam had it all to do because John Romano stayed in bed at the hotel with pleurisy pains.

"Shucks, that wasn't nothin'," drawled Sam. "I been catchin' double-headers every year until this one. Always caught 130 or more games and then about 90 more in winter ball. It's a lot easier than being in the bullpen."

Sam, however, declined an invitation to walk back to the hotel.

"Call me in the morning, then we'll take a walk," he offered.

McDonald won his sixth victory on an unearned run, resulting from consecutive errors on balls hit by Neil Chrissy and Jim Delsing. But the first tally was legitimate on hits by Chrissy and Hairston. McDonald, yielding four hits, of which two were flukes, worked out of a jam in the last inning by fanning Jackie Spears for the last out. The only run against him was unearned.

Latman's 11th victory sprouted from Chrissy's first

TRIBE AT HOME

TOMORROW—Omaha (Radio Appreciation Night), 7:45.

SATURDAY—Omaha, 7:45.

SUNDAY—Omaha (Boy Scout Day), 2:30.

MONDAY—St. Paul (Shrine Night), 7:45.

TUESDAY—St. Paul, 7:45.

WEDNESDAY—St. Paul, 7:45.

THURSDAY—Minneapolis (Republican Night), 7:45.

AUGUST 9—Minneapolis, 7:45.

AUGUST 10—Minneapolis, 7:45.

AUGUST 11—Denver (Double-Header), 1:30.

AUGUST 12—Denver (Ladies' Night), 7:45.

AUGUST 13—Louisville (Sahara Grotto Night), 7:45.

AUGUST 14—Louisville, 7:45.

AUGUST 15—Louisville (Double-Header), 6:30.

inning 3-run homer, his 11th of the year. Hairston's hit started a 3-run rally in the fifth that routed Bob Milliken, marking the fifth time that he has failed to last in a starting assignment against the Indians.

Latman's own error led to two unearned runs in the sixth and the Saints scored their only earned runs of the night in the seventh when Bill Lajoie got an inside-the-park homer. Both Delsing and Dick DiTusa crashed into the fence below the scoreboard in trying for a catch and fell over each other. By the time Delsing retrieved the ball, Lajoie was on his way home.

It will be "hard luck" Tony Ponce, who hasn't had a run in 20 innings, in the series and road finale tonight.

Tabernacle, Kokomo Advance in Tourney

Special to The News

ZIONSVILLE, Ind.—The upper bracket of the Zionsville Invitational outdoor basketball tournament has concluded its first round and will take a breather while the lower bracket catches up.

The Tabernacle All-Stars downed Logansport, 53-49, last night as Butler's Ted Guzek sniped 25 points for the winners. Kokomo downed Muncie, 72-57, paced by Bob Patchett's 17 points and 14 from Junior Phipps, former I.U. player.

