

Cohen's Future With Tribe Is Under Fire

By LESTER KOELLING

Whether or not Andy Cohen will return as manager of the Indianapolis Indians may be decided in the next few days.

Tribe President Ownie Bush and General Manager Ray Johnston left today for Chicago to attend a three-day organization meeting of the Chicago White Sox, with whom the Indians again will have a working agreement next season. Cohen also will attend the parley which will include an evaluation of all players in the White Sox system.

There has been considerable guessing on the Indianapolis managerial post in 1958, and even more speculation that Cohen will not be rehired. It is known that both the Indianapolis and Chicago managements are keenly disappointed over the sixth-place finish of the Indians, and some of the blame is being channeled to Cohen.

On the other hand, there are those who believe that Cohen did about as well as could be expected in view of the numerous injuries that hit the club, and also that much of the playing personnel was below Triple A standard. It is quite possible that a "name" manager will be sought for the Indians next year to help stimulate attendance and forestall another financial crisis such as was experienced the past season. The Indianapolis club lost about $60,000 and had the White Sox not picked up the tab, there would have been no baseball here next year.

Before departing for Chicago, Tribe officials announced the purchase of Bobby (Ace) Winkles, a shortstop, from Tulsa of the Texas League. Winkles batted .279 for the Oilers and was selected as the Texas loop's All-Star shortstop.

The 27-year-old Winkles, a former baseball and basketball star at Illinois Wesleyan College, will be making a return trip into the American Association. He played 44 games with Charleston in 1955. With Tulsa this season, his 178 hits included 18 doubles, four triples and two home runs. He also stole 11 bases and batted in 48 runs.

The Tribe's 1957 shortstop was Jose Valdivielso, who was optioned to the Indians by Washington and subsequently recalled.

Herrel Is Favored in State PGA

By Associated Press

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — A 23-year-old assistant pro at the Evansville Country Club carried the favorite's role today as the 1957 Indiana Professional Golfers Association championship tournament began here.

Bill Herrel stepped into the role yesterday with a 28-36—64 qualifying round that broke the club's competitive course record by two strokes.

Charley Harter of Indianapolis was second with a 67, and Ivan Gantz of Indianapolis was third with a 68.

Match play for 44 qualifier's will continue through Friday.

The PGA selected the Delaware Country Club at Muncie for its 1958 Open and the Beechwood Country Club in Laporte for its match tourney.

Denver Is Solid Favorite in JWS

DENVER (AP)—The Denver Bears, winners of 40 in their last 48 games, carry the American Association colors against Buffalo's International League representatives in the opener tonight of the 41st Junior World Series.

Starting off on home grounds, Denver is a solid favorite to extend the Association's victory streak in the series to an unprecedented four straight. More than 15,000 persons are expected for the first game.

It will be the first time Denver has played in the Junior classic. Buffalo has played five times, but won only twice, in 1904 and 1905, the first two years of the event. Buffalo hasn't played in the Junior World Series since 1936 when it lost to Milwaukee.