

Miserable Night For Tribesmen

By JEP CADOU JR.
Sports Editor

Good pitch, no hit.

That in a soggy nutshell is the impression which 3,347 loyal fans got of our Indianapolis Indians last night in the season's opener at Victory Field.

To tell the painful truth, it was a miserable night all the way around. The 45-degree temperature and constant rain which fell throughout the game were bad enough.

But, when the Indians wound up not only the losers by a 1-0 score in a game limited to six innings by the rain but also the victims of a bob-tailed no-hitter, that was really awful.

Indianapolis got a topflight pitching job out of Barry Latman, the 20-year-old rookie righthander. As president Ownie Bush said after the game, Latman "threw only one bad pitch." But, that one was a high curve which Minneapolis outfielder Carlos Paula blasted for a double to drive in the only run of the game.

Still, Latman's mound chore had to be ranked as definitely second best for the evening to the job done on the Indians by Stu Miller, the former St. Louis Cardinal star.

ANOTHER righthander named Phil Bayt formally launched the American Association season by throwing the first ball not one time but six so that every photographer could get just what he wanted. The mayor's first pitch was low and got away from Dick Stackhouse, Junior Chamber of Commerce president. The second way wide while the third was a genuine wild pitch in anyone's league. Then the mayor settled down and threw three straight "right down the middle," striking out Mr. Mythical.

Latman had much the same kind of pattern in the third inning. He loaded the bases with no one out, then proceeded to throw eight consecutive swinging strikes, fanning two batters in the process and getting the final one on a force-out.

Bayt presented a king-sized key to the city to Manager Andy Cohen before the game. Andy doubtless wished some of his batsmen (?) were using it at the plate before the action was over.

DEFENDING champions of the Association and Little World Series champs by virtue of inheritance from the former crop of Cleveland farmhands, the new Indians still will be looking for that first hit tonight when they play the Millers again at Victory Field — weather permitting, of course.

Because, last night's sad and sodden debut was just plain miserable any way you look at it. If you stayed home, you displayed commendable wisdom and foresight.

crowd with a stout-hearted performance in the third inning. Minneapolis loaded the bases with none out before Latman blazed by eight consecutive swinging strikes against the strongest part of the Millers' batting order.

HANK THOMPSON and Carlos Paula were strikeout victims in this stretch and, after two strikes, Orlando Cepeda grounded into a force play.

The only run of the tilt came in the first inning on what Tribe Manager Andy Cohen called Latman's only bad pitch of the game.

Wayne Terwilliger, who had walked, went the rest of the way around on a two-out double to left center by Paula.

Entered Mile Race

year. Bettenhausen, a former national driving champion, also hit the wall later in the race. Russo has participated in 11 previous Indianapolis classics and Bettenhausen 10.

Cal Niday of Pacoima, Cal., and Elmer George of Indianapolis, were nominated as drivers on two of the other four entries. Niday is the choice of Owner Carl L. Anderson of St. Charles, Ill., for the Trio Brass Foundry Special. George was named on a car entered by Ernest L. Ruiz of Modesto, Cal.

The Sclavi Amos Special entered by Fred Sclavi of Charleston, W. Va., and a new car owned by Ed Walsh of St. Louis, Mo., were the other entries—both without drivers.

Four nominations yesterday morning included two Central Excavating Specials entered by Pete Salemi of Cleveland, Ohio. The others were the Peter Schmidt Special from St. Louis, Mo., and the Dunn Engineering Special from Detroit, Michigan. Johnny Baldwin of Los Angeles, Cal., was named on one of Salemi's cars and Al Herman of Centerville, Pa., on the Dunn entry; the other two cockpits til' are open.

s Dates And Golf

Indianapolis Tech—Boone, Hamilton, Hancock, northern Marion.
Indianapolis Washington—Hendricks, Johnson, Shelby, southern Marion.
Kokomo—Carroll, Cass, Fulton, Grant, Howard, Miami, Tipton.
Lafayette—Benton, Clinton, Jasper, Newton, Pulaski, Tippecanoe, Warren, White.
Mishawaka—LaPorte, St. Joseph, Starke.
Muncie—Burris—Blackford, Delaware, Jay, Madison, Randolph.
New Albany—Clark, Floyd, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Jennings, Scott, Switzerland, Washington.
Richmond—Dearborn, Decatur, Fayette, Franklin, Henry, Ohio, Ripley, Rush, Union, Wayne.
Terre Haute—Garfield—Clay, Fountain, Knox, Montgomery, Parke, Putnam, Sullivan, Vermillion, Vigo.

Sectional assignments to track regionals:

Bloomington University—Bloomington, Ev-

Yesterday's Results

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
Minneapolis 1, INDIANAPOLIS 0 (6 innings, rain).
Denver at Louisville, rain.
Omaha at Charleston (rain).
St. Paul at Wichita, rain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Pittsburgh 9, New York 2.
Milwaukee 4, Chicago 1.
St. Louis 13, Cincinnati 4.
Brooklyn 7, Philadelphia 6 (12 innings).

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Chicago 3, Cleveland 2 (11 innings).
New York 2, Washington 1.
Boston 4, Baltimore 2.
Kansas City 2, Detroit 1.

Today's Games

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
Minneapolis at INDIANAPOLIS, 7:45 p.m.
Denver at Louisville, night.
Omaha at Charleston, night.
St. Paul at Wichita, night.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Detroit at Kansas City—Bunning (5-1) vs. Garza (0-2).
(Only game scheduled)

NATIONAL LEAGUE
New York at Pittsburgh—Gomez (7-17) vs. Arroyo (3-3).
St. Louis at Cincinnati—Dickson (13-11) vs. Nuxhall (13-11).
(Only games scheduled)

Little League

Boys interested in playing in the Flanner House Little League this season are asked to register with Paul E. Terry at Flanner House from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m., daily.

Cubs, Giants Make Trade

Chicago (INS) — The Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants completed a four-player trade yesterday just before opening their 1957 season.

The Cubs obtained left-handed Pitcher Dick Littlefield and Outfielder Bob Lennon for Infielder Ray Jablonski and Catcher Ray Katt.

Littlefield gives the Cubs another southpaw hurler to augment their left-handed staff which up to now consisted only of Jackie Collum. Lennon played 28 games for New York last season, hitting .182 and finished with Minneapolis of the American Association where he batted .266.