

Indians Lose, 7-4, To Denver

By MAX GREENWALD

Denver's home-run might again overpowered the Indianapolis Indians last night as the Bears triumphed, 7-4.

The tilt brought the Tribe's first home stand of 1957 to a close with just two victories and six losses.

Jim Fridley and Marv Throneberry were the Bears' home-run hitters, while Vince Garcia connected with his first of the season for Indianapolis.

Garcia's clout over the left-field bricks gave the Indians a 4-3 edge in the sixth.

THE TRIBE obtained its other three runs, all unearned, in the first. Pitcher Mark Freeman's bad throw trying for a force play at second led to these tallies.

Ted Beard legged out a double to right center as he batted over the first run. It was his fourth double of the season. Another marker came over on Ron Jackson's sacrifice fly and the third on Garcia's single.

Tony Ponce started for the Indians and yielded 11 safeties, as the Tribe was out, 14-6. Denver began the scoring its first time at bat on a single by Zeke Bella, Norm Siebern's double to right and an infield out.

The homer by Fridley, a former Indianapolis outfielder, went over the wall in left after Siebern singled in the third to make it a 3-3 game.

After Garcia had sent the Tribe ahead, Siebern opened the seventh with another of his four hits. Fridley also singled and Throneberry's terrific right-field smash landed on the other side of Harding Street.

Bill DuFour relieved Ponce and gave up the fourth run in the seventh on a double to right by Dick Sanders and Curt Roberts' single.

Southpaw Tom Flanagan allowed only one hit in the two innings he pitched, giving him a stretch of four scoreless frames.

Freeman had several uneasy moments as he walked six and finally filled the bases in the eighth. But John Kucab came to the mound to get Sam Hairston on a bouncer to short. Kucab, who also stopped the Tribe with three hits on Monday night, had no problems in the ninth.

HIT-AND-RUN—Tribe Manager Andy Cohen was the speaker yesterday at the Mercator Club luncheon. The Mercator Club is active for the third straight year with its Junior Baseball program.

Outfielder Dick Means and Pitcher Dick Arias were assigned yesterday to Colorado Springs. Two other hurlers, Joe Dahlke and Glen Rosebaum, will not make the road trip with the Indians and are awaiting assignment.

Beard was busy in center with seven putouts, including a fine catch of John Blanchard's sinking liner in the sixth. Sam Mele also made a great diving catch to retire Blanchard in the ninth.

Fridley ordinarily wouldn't have started against a right-handed pitcher but George Wilson was sidelined because of a twisted knee.

Cohen shook up his lineup with third baseman Charlie Williams leading off for the first time.

The Indians left two in the first when Hairston fled to right. Two also were stranded in the fifth when Beard grounded into a forceout.

Throneberry's homer was his second of the two-game series and his third of the season.
