

Latman Goes Route In 8-0 Tribe Win

Louisville, Ky.—Barry Latman pitched his first nine-inning American Association shutout last night as the Indianapolis Indians won from Louisville, 8-0.

The young righthander checked the Colonels with four hits but had to work his way out of some tight spots because of walks.

Latman had seven walks along with his seven strikeouts, stranding 12 base runners.

Indianapolis routed a former teammate and a buddy of Latman, southpaw Don Rudolph, in the seventh on the way to the triumph.

IN HIS final Tribe game before joining the Chicago White Sox, Ted Beard had three of the 12 hits obtained off Rudolph and his successor, Dave Hoskins.

The Indians didn't waste much time taking the lead, tallying twice in the first inning. Vince Garcia singled off Third Baseman Chico Rivera's glove and scored on Ron Jackson's double to left center. Neil Chrisley's single dropped into center to plate Jackson.

Jose Valdivielso sent out the first of his two sacrifice flies to give the tribe a run in the sixth. The bases were filled when Chrisley was struck on the left arm by a

The seventh was the big frame for the Indians as four markers were chalked up. Beard singled, Garcia doubled to right center and Jackson walked to load 'em up before Sam Mele came through with a sacrifice fly.

Rudolph left after a pass to Chrisley filled the sacks again. Clarence Moore booted Williams' grounder to short and a run was registered, then Hairston walked forcing over a marker. Valdivielso followed by providing a sacrifice fly.

In the eighth Beard sped out a grounder to short to earn a single, Mele walked and Chrisley singled to end the scoring.

LATMAN WAS forced to work with men on bases in all but two innings. In the first a walk and Valdivielso's throwing error put runners on third and first with one out. But Jack Parks popped to Valdivielso and the shortstop then went down the left-field line for Joe Macko's foul.

Clem McCord doubled in the third and a walk followed, but Parks again popped out to short.

The third also saw a dandy rhubarb when Rudolph was called out after running into a bunted ball. The disgusted pitcher threw his helmet 50 feet against the bat rack and Manager Andy Cohen of the Tribe protested to Umpire Walt Doyle that Rudolph should be thumbed from the park for such unseemly behavior.

Louisville loaded the bases in the seventh on Art Dunham's leadoff double and two walks but Moore was called out on strikes.

The tilt ended Indianapolis' season play at Louisville where the Tribe won seven of the 11 games.

THE INDIANS will move into Charleston for a double-header tonight.

There was a turnout of 3,206 paid last night although there was a program of pre-game entertainment and giveaways by an appliance firm.

Latman, the Indians' top winner with nine triumphs, holds three decisions over Louisville.
