

Tribe Meets Omaha Club Here Tonight

By MAX GREENWALD

Indianapolis opens a 14-day home stand at Victory Field tonight against Omaha. It'll be Radio Appreciation Night and the probable Tribe pitcher is Tony Ponce, who has an 8-9 record.

Ponce was slated to go last night in St. Paul, but the series windup with the Saints was rained out.

Indianapolis concluded its long road trip with a fine 9-6 record, sweeping a twin bill Wednesday to drop the Saints to sixth place.

Andy Cohen's Tribe now faces three important tilts with Omaha, with the two teams tied for fourth place, only half a game behind third-place Denver in the hot race for a playoff spot.

AILING Infielder Charley Williams may be ready to go in the Omaha series but Catcher John Romano spent the entire St. Paul series confined to his hotel room with pleurisy and he may not be available.

Last night's rained out game will be played as part of a double bill in St. Paul Aug. 22.

Tomorrow will be Coy Poe's Baseball Party and Pre-Game Show Day, in accordance with the proclamation issued yesterday by Mayor Phil Bayt. Television personality Dagmar heads a long list of entertainers lined up for the show before tomorrow night's Omaha game.

MAYOR BAYT'S proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS, the Indianapolis Baseball Club is interested in promoting favorable publicity throughout the area of the City of Indianapolis; and

WHEREAS, the Indianapolis Baseball Club feels that a new 1957 attendance record can be set in Victory Field for the game between Omaha and Indianapolis on Saturday night, Aug. 3, 1957; and

WHEREAS, this game may also set a record for attendance for the American Association for 1957;

NOW THEREFORE, I, Phil Bayt, Mayor of the City of Indianapolis hereby proclaim August 3, 1957, as Coy Poe's Baseball Party and Pre-Game Show Day and request the active participation and support of every civic minded individual and group in this area.
