

12-Run Avalanche Buries Indians, 17-1

By MAX GREENWALD

One of the worst defeats given an Indianapolis team was handed the Tribe by Denver last night.

And it was one of the worst innings in history for the Indians, a 12-run nightmare, which was responsible for the 17-1 shellacking.

Denver sent 17 batters to the plate in that dismal frame to get 10 hits, three walks and to benefit from three errors.

The Bears collected 18 safeties while Indianapolis was limited to six by Zach Monroe.

Phil Mateja, making his first appearance as Tribe shortstop, clouted a triple to right center in the eighth and scored the only run on a wild pitch.

However, Mateja made two of the errors in the Denver fourth and Sam Hairston one to compound starter Tony Ponce's troubles.

SOUTHPAW Ken Yoke replaced Ponce with one out but failed to retire any of the six batters he faced. Four got hits, including a triple by Curt Roberts, two walked.

Hal Trosky gave up two more hits before retiring the side. Trosky then pitched three good innings before he was rapped for a three-run homer by Gordon Windhorn, the ball leaving the park at the leftfield line.

Jim Hughes hurled the ninth for the Tribe and had no problems.

HIT-AND-RUN—Prizes will be offered between innings tonight as part of the Standard Oil Night program. Standard Oil has distributed free grandstand tickets.

Omaha will open a four-game series and Cloyd Boyer will be the Tribe pitcher.

In defeating the Indians for the fourth time over two seasons, Monroe helped his cause with four RBI's on three hits. Tommy Carroll, the Notre Dame boy, also had three bingles and scored four times.

JOHNNY CALLISON clouted a 450-foot swat into center for a first-inning triple. But he was stranded when Jim Pisoni made a good running catch in left center of Bob Hale's drive.

A trickler off John Blanchard's bat in the third got past Joe Altobelli but Charley Williams did a good job of backing up the first baseman and threw to Ponce in time.

Curt Hardaway went to his left for a good stop in the Indianapolis third, taking Mateja's bouncer to start a double play.

Andy Cohen, Indianapolis pilot in 1957, should win some kind of an award for being cautious. After Mateja's triple in the eighth and a walk to Vince Garcia, Stan Johnson was warming up in the bullpen.

DENVER
	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Roberts, 2b	5	4	2	4	5	0
Wilson, rf	3	1	2	0	0	0
Windhorn, cf	2	1	2	2	0	0
Bella, 1b	5	1	2	9	1	0
Blanchard, c	6	1	2	4	0	0
Sanders, lf	4	1	1	0	0	0
Pisoni, cf	6	1	1	4	0	0
Carroll, ss	5	4	3	3	3	0
Hardaway, 3b	3	1	0	1	2	0
Monroe, p	5	2	3	0	1	0
Totals	44	17	18	27	12	0

INDIANAPOLIS
	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Mateja, ss	4	1	2	1	5	2
Garcia, 3b	3	0	0	1	1	0
Callison, cf	4	0	1	1	0	0
Hale, lf	4	0	1	2	0	1
Altobelli, 1b	4	0	0	6	2	0
Hicks, rf	3	0	0	2	0	0
Williams, 2b	4	0	1	5	1	0
Hairston, c	2	0	0	7	2	1
Ponce, p	1	0	0	1	1	0
Yoke, p	0	0	0	0	0	0
Trosky, p	1	0	1	1	0	0
McAnany	1	0	0	0	0	0
Hughes, p	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	31	1	6	27	12	4

¹Ran for Wilson in fourth.

²Grounded out for Trosky in eighth.

Denver 110 (12100 030-17

INDIANAPOLIS 000 000 010-1

DP—Hardaway, Roberts and Bella; Mateja, Williams and Altobelli; Carroll, Roberts and Bella. RBI—Bella 2, Monroe 4, Blanchard, Sanders 2, Hardaway, Roberts 2, Wilson, Windhorn 3. Left—Denver 8, Indianapolis 6. 3B—Callison, Roberts, Mateja. HR—Windhorn. SB—Carroll, S—Hardaway.

	IP	H	R	E	BB	SO
Monroe (W, 1-0)	9	6	1	1	3	4
Ponce (L, 0-1)	3 1/3	9	8	7	2	1
Yoke	0	4	6	6	2	0
Trosky	4 1/3	5	3	3	2	4
Hughes	1	0	0	0	1	1

WP—Monroe. PB—Hairston, U—Doyle and Kinnamon. T—2:23. A—1,304.

Reliever Saves Game For Saints

Charleston, W. Va. (AP) — Relief Pitcher George Sackey squelched a ninth-inning Charleston rally to preserve a 4-3 triumph for St. Paul and give the Saints an even split in the four-game series.

Saints' starter Marty Stabiner, a rookie lefthander, had the Senators at his mercy until the last-inning uprising. Sackey left Ken Walters on third base when he struck out Pinch Hitter Charley Lau to