Association Names 'Beautify With Cacti' Winners

FIRST PRIZE WINNER — American Bank of Commerce located at 416 N. Stanton was awarded first prize of $45 for their entry in the "Beautify With Cacti" contest which featured two planter boxes of burned adobe brick planted with several large yuccas. Volcunic ash of dark reddish brown color completed the Southwestern motif. In addition to providing an attractive back entrance for the bank, the beautiful area prevents delivery trucks from parking directly at the back door.

SECOND PRIZE WINNER — Quality Gas For Less, Service Station No. 1, was the second place winner of $25. Carson Henson, manager, did the landscaping himself. In addition to two existing Spanish Dagger yuccas, he also planted an ocotillo, some smaller yuccas, and several century plants. He put down heavy plastic material to prevent weed growth, and then added red and white gravel to complete the landscaping.

Winners of the recent "Beautify With Cacti" contest which was co-sponsored by Beauty El Paso Association and The El Paso Times have been announced.

First place winner of $45 is American Bank of Commerce located at 416 N. Stanton with new boxes which were landscaped with large yuccas.

Second place winner of $25 is Quality Gas For Less, Service Station Number 1, located at 800 Gateway East. The parking areas were landscaped with yuccas, century plants and an ocotillo.

Third place winner of $20 is Southwestern General Hospital which landscaped the Murchison Street side with locusts, ocotillos, prickly pears, and lava rocks.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Gary Meyer of the El Paso Zoological Society, Mrs. Joseph C. Barr, an El Paso artist, and Mrs. H. W. Williams of the Convention and Tourist Bureau of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce.

"Beautify With Cacti" was the theme of the two-month contest and El Paso businessmen were urged to clean up their premises and then landscape with plant material indigenous to our Southwestern desert, or with plants that do particularly well in El Paso with a minimum of care and water.

Some of the El Paso businesses that plan to landscape, but were unable to comply with the contest deadline, are Wagner Company Realtors of 400 Montana, Truck Terminal Leasing on Gateway East, Freeway Bowling Lanes at 4279 Gateway East, and General Electric Small Appliance Center at 4391 Montana.

Several El Pasoans donated cacti which were distributed during the contest to the various businesses desiring them. The contest began May 15 and ended July 15.

Mrs. George Kistnermacher, vice-president of Beauty El Paso Association, was chairman of the contest. She was assisted by committee members Mrs. Harold R. Shelton, Mrs. Charles V. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Mangin, Miss Peggy Mangin, Mrs. Joe Battle, Charlie Tupper, Mrs. John Jagoe, Mrs. M. G. McClellan, Mrs. Chester Chapoy, and Miss Clayton.

Andy Cohen is president of Beauty El Paso Association.

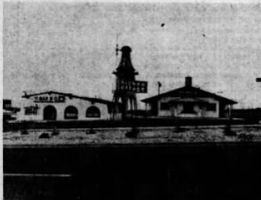

THIRD PLACE WINNER — Southwestern General Hospital located at 2001 Murchison used a variety of plant material from our Southwestern desert, which included ocotillos, prickly pear cacti, and locusts. Lava rocks were also used in conjunction with the cacti for a pleasing appearance.

Administrator Bill Burton said, "We are pleased to cooperate with the Beauty El Paso Association by planting this area along Murchison during the 'Beautify With Cacti' contest. It has needed landscaping for a long time."

HONORABLE MENTION — Gerotino Enco Service Station located at Gerotino and Gateway East has added some new planting recently to their already existing yuccas. Some small green leafy plants and some fan palms, as well as three small century plants make an attractive grouping in the parking area in front of the station. Some white concrete flower pots featuring arbor vitae on either side of the front door are not visible in the photograph.

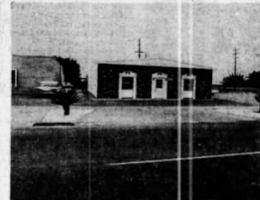

HONORABLE MENTION — Hickory House at 1229 McRae and Elmer's Chicken Cottage at 1243 McRae used soft leaf yuccas, junipers and red yuccas to landscape the parking area. White or colored gravel will soon be added to complete the landscaping, according to Brown and Klink, owners of the property.

HONORABLE MENTION — Jim Pagan's Texaco Station at the intersection of Cotton and Montana had only a small pie-shaped area which was covered with weeds and litter. At the suggestion of a letter from the Beauty El Paso Association, Pagan decided to clean up and beautify the area with two large yuccas, a large boulder and some reddish-brown gravel. Pagan says he has received many comments and compliments from his customers on the improved appearance of the area.

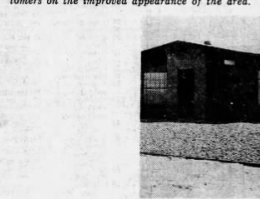

HONORABLE MENTION — Furniture Warehouse at 4630 Montana had an unsightly flower box with a dead hedge. During the "Beautify With Cacti" contest, The El Paso Times and Beauty El Paso Association suggested that they utilize their existing flower box to advantage and plant it with cacti. They responded by using a red yucca, some white crushed gravel and a large volcanic rock.

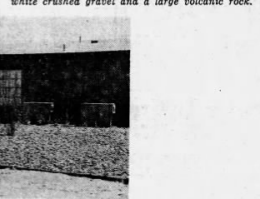

HONORABLE MENTION — Jerry Wolfe Enterprises at 8229 Gateway East also decided to use the ever-popular large Spanish Dagger yuccas. Although they had only two very small parking areas to landscape, they planted them to good advantage. After transplanting Spanish Daguers and other cacti need water about once a week for the first year until they establish their new root systems, according to botanists.

HONORABLE MENTION — The Burger Chef at 1225 McRae also used the soft leaf yuccas, junipers and red yuccas to improve the parking area in front of their building. All of these plants are available from many El Paso nurseries that specialize in Southwestern landscaping. Brown and Klink are owners of the building.

HONORABLE MENTION — Dr. John Mottet at 6254 Gateway East improved the appearance of his office by adding a large area of arroyo gravel, a small Spanish Dagger yucca, and an ocotillo. Some small century plants were added around the perimeter of the gravel, and the pampas grass, which was planted around the two air conditioners, will eventually hide them.

HONORABLE MENTION — El Paso Teachers Federal Credit Union at 6610 Continental chose plant material which does particularly well in El Paso's semi-arid climate. Several types of junipers were used in conjunction with pinon, black and Austrian pine trees. Coyote bush, cotoneaster, Arizona Ash trees, and large boulders completed the planting.

HONORABLE MENTION — Romo and Guillen Insurance located at 6410 Gateway East decided to landscape their parking area with some soft yuccas, light colored gravel and some large lava rocks. The Southwestern type of landscaping complements the Spanish-inspired ornamental iron on the front windows and iron gate which is used on the front door.

HONORABLE MENTION — Piggybank Service Station at 1901 McRae was also landscaped by Brown and Klink with soft leaf yuccas, junipers, and red yuccas. The landscaping was continued around the corner of the station onto Sims Drive, also, thus making an attractive intersection with McRae Blvd. White or colored gravel will also be used to complete the landscaping. To prevent weed growth around the plants and cacti, it is advisable to put down heavy plastic material before the gravel is spread.

HONORABLE MENTION — The congregation at People's Christian Center Church decided to get busy and beautify the building. Six tons of gravel were spread, and some small Spanish Dagger yuccas and century plants were planted around the building. In addition to cleaning up the outside of the building, members of the congregation also painted the inside completely.

HONORABLE MENTION — El Paso Teachers Federal Credit Union at 6610 Continental chose plant material which does particularly well in El Paso's semi-arid climate. Several types of junipers were used in conjunction with pinon, black and Austrian pine trees. Coyote bush, cotoneaster, Arizona Ash trees, and large boulders completed the planting.

HONORABLE MENTION — Barter City Bank at 7734 Gateway East used a typically Southwestern type of landscaping to complement the front of their building. The long planter box features small hedges that do particularly well in El Paso, and the large front area features three large Spanish Dagger yuccas in three different sizes, a large century plant, and boulder, and reddish-brown gravel. The Beauty El Paso Association stresses the use of native plant material for El Paso businesses because of its ease of care and maintenance.
